May Correct Mariner 2's Course

Small Motor Holds Key To Venus Shot Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A small ace-in-the-hole motor weighing 37.3 pounds is the big key to America's attaining the world's most significant interplanetary achievement—shooting the Mariner 2 spacecraft on an exploratory mission past Venus.

If the complex space messenger sweeps within 10,000 miles of Venus in December as planned—after a 180-million mile trip—it would mark a major breakthrough for the United States in the race for space.

Information relayed by Mariner 2 could help scientists and astronomers unravel secrets concealed for centuries by the planet's constant cloud layers. It could determine whether life as we know it possibly could exist on the planet, something doubted by most scientists.

The spacecraft motor became all-important Monday when analysis of tracking data indicated an excellent chance Mariner 2 can be directed from the ground to the vicinity of Venus even though it is far off course.

The critical firing of the motor by ground signal is scheduled tentatively for next Tuesday, Sept. 4, after the flight path, alignment, speed and other factors have been carefully computed.

It is essential that the probe approach within 25,000 miles of Venus if it is to gather the desired measurements.

The trajectory error was caused by an unexplained rolling motion executed by the first stage of the Atlas-Agena B booster rocket.

At the time of midcourse maneuver, Mariner 2 will be about one million miles from earth, traveling about 6,800 miles an hour.

At 2 a.m. today it had covered more than 200,000 miles of its planned 180 - million mile trek across space.

Even though the midcourse motor fires, scientists do not know whether Mariner 2's instruments and transmitters will hold up in the unknown environment of space where they are subjected to radiation, shifting temperatures and meteorites.

The Soviet Union fired a payload within 62,000 miles of Venus last year but lost contact with it early in flight.

President Gets Satellite Bill After Okay In House

Liberals Cry Giveway Of Tax Dollars

Communications Network To Be Run By Private Concern

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has on his desk today the communications satellite bill he wanted.

It sets up a private, profit-making corporation to run the U.S. portion of an eventual global network on space relay stations.

The House approved a Senate version of the bill 372 to 10 Monday, foreclosing any chance to another Senate filibuster.

A small group of House liberals argued again that the bill represents a giveaway of millions of taxpayers' dollars spent on space research that makes the revolutionary communications system possible.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, said, "Our nation needs it. It needs it now, and without further delay."

Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., who voted against the bill, said the corporation's board of directors will be dominated by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The private enterprise approach to the problem of how to run a global communications network was worked out in the executive branch after months of behind the scenes debate. It has the strong backing of the President.

The satellite corporation would have 15 directors: Six named by the communications companies, six elected by public stockholders and three appointed by the President.

The communications companies could buy up to 50 per cent of the stock. The other half would be offered to the public at $100 a share.

The bill as it passed the House had a provision providing for a reduced number of directors to be named by the communications companies if they did not subscribe to their full share of the stock. This was knocked out by the Senate.

Now It's Up To States

Congress OKs Resolution To Clamp Ban On Poll Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capping a 23-year battle, Congress has approved a proposed constitutional amendment which would ban poll taxes in federal elections.

Now it's up to the states, which have seven years to make up their minds.

With 40 votes to spare, the House completed action Monday on a resolution submitting to the state legislatures the proposition of making it constitutionally illegal to require payment of a poll tax to vote in elections for federal officials.

The vote was 295 to 86. A two-thirds majority was needed for approval. The winners included 163 Democrats and 132 Republicans. On the losing side were 71 Democrats and 15 Republicans.

Most of the dissenting Democrats were from the five states still having poll taxes: Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia.

The next move is up to the General Services Administration. That agency must certify the congressional action—approved last March by the Senate—to the governors of the 50 states. If three-fourths of the state legislatures—38 of them—ratify the proposed amendment within seven years it will become the law of the land.

The abolition proposal does not affect elections for state and local officials. It applies only to presidential and vice presidential electors and to voters for senators and United States representatives.

There was no certainty that approval by the 38 legislatures would be forthcoming, despite the fact that only five states now have poll tax laws. Some Southern states which have repealed their own poll tax laws may look upon the proposal as an attempt by the federal government to prescribe qualifications for voters.

School Guard Staff Named In New Term

With one exception, the city has named its staff of adult crossing guards and is continuing other preparations for the start of the 1962-63 school term Sept. 5.

The crossing guards have been asked to report at police headquarters Friday at 1 p.m. to confer with Patrolman Charles A. Winters, who oversees the system. The staff will be the same as in the last term except for a new guard yet to be named for Westgate School, officer Winters said.

The guards and their assignments are:

St. Aloysius Parochial, Mrs. Mary Kathryn Bryan, 342 W. 5th St.; Neville, Mrs. Iris Bell, 2112 Pennsylvania Ave.; McKinley, Mrs. Betty Jane Berg, 730 Bradshaw Ave. and Mrs. Gatha D. Bekar, 152 Center St.; Lincoln, Mrs. Hugh Mackall, 932 Orchard Grove Ave.

Klondyke, Mrs. Kathryn Evans, 2046 Ohio Ave.; Garfield, Mrs. Raymond Humphrey, 959 Pennsylvania Ave.; Taft, Edith Williams, 745 Garner Ave.; East Junior High-Horace Mann, Herb Valentine, Princeton Ave., and Pleasant Heights, Mrs. Mildred Butler, 1864 Lisbon St.

The staff will have 11 guards this year instead of the 10 used through most of last term. The additional guard was placed at Orchard Grove Ave. and Anderson Blvd. at the request of North Side area parents late in the last term.

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said street department employes are continuing the job of painting crosswalks and school zone warning signs in the area of all the buildings.

Several traffic lights that have been out of service or acting as warning blinkers during the summer will be turned on again when classes resume.

Two of the lights are on Lisbon St. in Pleasant Heights — one near the Pleasant Heights School and the other at N. Shady Ln.

AWOL GI Flees Patrol

Youth Apparently Stole Second Auto

LISBON — An 18-year-old youth, reportedly AWOL from Ft. Knox, Ky., escaped from State Highway Patrol custody here about 11 p. m. Monday after being picked up for a traffic violation. Officers suspect he stole a car to get out of town.

The Lisbon patrol post reported that the youth was in a cruiser with an auxiliary patrolman at Southwest Area County Court on W. Lincoln Way while the regular patrolman checked out the car—a 1961 convertible which turned out to be stolen.

The youth jumped from the cruiser before the auxiliary officer could stop him and ran north in an alley next to the American Legion home.

Shortly before 2 a. m. today, Ross Tobias of Thomas Rd. at Pine St. reported the theft of his 1956 cream and white Chevrolet sedan. He said he parked it in his driveway about 10:30 p. m. The keys were not in the car.

Tropical Storm Nears North Carolina Coast

HATTERAS, N.C. (AP)—Tropical storm Alma, labeled poorly organized by the Weather Bureau neared the coast of North Carolina today.

The Weather Bureau at Miami said at 5 a.m. that the season's first Atlantic 8 spawned tropical storm was centered about 20 miles southeast of Morehead City, N.C., moving northeast at about 15 miles an hour.

Gale warnings were posted from Morehead City northward to Cape Charles, Va., with tides in that area expected to be on to three feet above normal.

At Atlantic Beach, on the Outer Banks opposite Morehead City, winds were reported from 10 to 15 miles per hour with gusts up to 33 miles per hour. Tides were two feet above normal.

Cost Of Living Hit New High During July

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose by two-tenths of one per cent in July to a record high, largely because of higher prices for several important foods and services.

Announcing the figure today, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said the increase was largely seasonal. It said its consumer price index in the last 10 years always has risen between June and July.

The rise of 0.2 per cent brought the index to 105.5 per cent of the average prices in the 1957-59 base period.

This means that the purchasing power of the dollar has shrunk by a little more than a nickel since that period.

The index in July was 1.1 per cent above a year ago.

As a result of the higher living costs about 950,000 workers will receive pay increases of one cent an hour. Their union contracts call for quarterly reviews and pay increases if prices go up.

These workers include about 780,000 in the automobile and auto parts industries, mostly the Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler; 75,000 workers in the farm equipment industry—Caterpillar and International Harvester; and 65,000 in the aerospace industry. The remaining 30,000 workers are employed by metal working firms.

In addition about 15,000 employes of trucking firms will receive 3-cent increases on the basis of annual or semiannual reviews of the cost of living. These workers are mostly in North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Seattle, Wash.

Higher average prices for pork, fresh milk and eggs were the major causes of a 0.3 per cent rise in food prices in July. On the other hand, prices of fresh fruit, vegetables and poultry were lower.

FBI Reports Crime Rate Increase Of 3%

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has reported a 3 per cent jump in the nation's crime rate in the first half of this year.

On the brighter side, the report made public Monday by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy showed a 2 per cent decrease in over-all crime in cities ranging in population from 750,000 to a million. Rural counties reported a crime rate 5 per cent under that of the first six months of 1961.

Ex-President Hoover Undergoes Operation

NEW YORK (AP) —Former President Herbert Hoover underwent an abdominal operation today at the age of 88.

Hoover was wheeled into the operating room at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center at 7:30 a.m. for removal of a polypoid lesion in the upper part of the large bowel.

The operation still was in progress at 9:30 a.m.

There was no immediate report on his condition.

The growth was described as a type that generally is noncancerous.

Hoover entered Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center Aug. 20 for a routine physical checkup. The hospital announced Monday that X-ray studies and laboratory tests had shown "evidence of a polypoid lesion in the upper part of Mr. Hoover's large bowel."

His health has been unusually good for one of his age. His last extended stay in Columbia Presbyterian was in 1958 when his gall bladder was removed.

Deputies Quiz Akron Boy In Girl's Death

Pastor's Daughter Strangled, Summit Coroner Reports

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff's deputies questioned a teen - age boy today in the death of 12-year-old Marion Brubaker, a minister's daughter whose nude, beaten body was found in a woods near here home.

The 15-year-old boy reported finding the body late Monday in a thicket in Coventry Twp. He was questioned until the early hours of the morning and was given a lie detector test, then was sent to the detention home. Deputies indicated they would have more questions for him later.

An hour before the body was found Marion had been seen pedaling her bicycle on Portage Lakes Drive on a two-mile trip home from a branch library. She was on a shortcut path through the woods when she was killed.

The Summit County coroner said her death resulted from strangling. He was awaiting results of tests on whether the slim, dark-haired girl had been raped.

Deputies said the bruises and marks on her body indicated she put up an intensive struggle before her death.

Blood was found on the path, along with fragments of a bottle that may have been used as a club. Bruise marks covered the child's throat. Her clothing — a blouse, brassiere, shorts and tennis shoes—were scattered near the body and were ripped and shredded.

Boy Escapes Injury When Bike Hits Truck

A 12-year-old Riley Ave. boy escaped without injury when his bicycle collided with a slow-moving truck Monday at 2:10 p. m. at Ambrose and Laura Aves., police said.

Led told police he was pulling away from a parking place when the bicycle hit the side of the truck.

In Algeria Unrest

Army Head Calls Guerrilla Chiefs

ALGIERS (AP) — The chief of the regular Algerian army summoned guerrilla leaders to a meeting in eastern Algeria today in an effort to weld a common front against anti-Ben Bella guerrillas controlling Algiers and the surrounding area.

From his headquarters in western Algeria, Col. Houari Boumedienne called the commanders of Wilayas (military zones) Nos. 1, 2, 5 and 6 to the meeting in Setif, 150 miles east of Algiers on the road to Constantine.

The leaders of Wilayas 3 and 4, who chased Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau out of the capital, were not invited.

Boumedienne, chief of the 45,000-man regular army, clearly was attempting to unite most of Algeria's 100,000 troops against the anti-Ben Bella guerrilla commanders in central Algeria. But there was no sign that shooting was imminent.

Diplomatic observers believe the opposing sides will continue to try to avoid bloodshed. They fear, however, that a form of military dictatorship will emerge from the economic chaos and bitter political bickering that has prevailed since independence July 3.

The anti-Ben Bella leaders command an imposing force of toughened veterans of the war for independence against France. Wilaya 4, controlling Algiers, is believed to have 20,000 men under arms. Their supporters in Wilaya 3, in the Kabylie Mountains to the east, are estimated at 10,000.

Boumedienne's own troops are largely untested, having sat out most of the war in Morocco and Tunisia.

It was resistance to Ben Bella's efforts to bring the six guerrilla zones under a unified central command that caused Wilaya 4's rebellion against the Political Bureau, sending it in flight to Oran. The Algiers guerrillas accused the Political Bureau of betraying the revolution and launched bitter attacks against the West, Europeans and "neocolonialists."

One Killed; Italy Jarred

Homes Toppled As Quake Shakes Most Of Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A severe earthquake shook most of Greece for 20 seconds today, toppling homes in some areas. One death was reported.

The quake here was accompanied by strong tremors across southern Italy, where a quake last week took 20 lives. But no deaths were reported in Italy and officials said initial checks indicated the damage there was slight.

Nine persons were injured in Naples by falling as they rushed from their homes. Naples hospitals said five other persons suffered shock or heart attacks.

On the Amalfi coast of Italy where Jacqueline Kennedy is vacationing, the quake was barely felt. The American First Lady was sightseeing in the Amalfi Cathedral and did not notice the disturbance.

The Athens Seismological Service said the quake centered 65 miles southwest of Athens. That would put the epicenter at the town of Nafplion, in the eastern Peloponnesus.

Reports reaching Athens from ancient Corinth said a 90-year-old man was killed in the collapse of his home.

From Patrai, Greece's third largest port, came word that a number of homes were destroyed.

No damage to the Acropolis or the Parthenon, the ancient ruins on the hillside overlooking Athens, was apparent.

The quake struck the Peoponnesus peninsula at 1:02 p.m. It was also recorded on the islandof Crete and in southern Greece. Police said they were unable to get word on the extent of destruction and casualties because all communications south of Corinth were disrupted.

Line To Boost Water Supply For West End

Project Of $5,000 Will Provide 1,300 Feet Of New Main

The Board of Public Utilities decided Monday afternoon on a $5,000 project involving 1,300 feet of new 8-inch main that is designed to correct long-standing complaints of low water pressure in the W. 9th St. area.

The project calls for installation of the new main along Grant St. from St. Clair Ave. to Dresden Ave. to tie in with the existing 8-inch main on W. 9th St.

The board agreed to request Council to enact legislation authorizing purchase of the 1,300 feet of 8-inch pipe and fittings, estimated to cost about $5,000. The water department's distribution crew will install the line.

The complaints of low water pressure have been prevalent in the West End-Sunnyside are for many years. On several occasions the fire department has complained of an adequate supply for fighting blazes.

The condition has existed for years because an 8-inch line along W. 9th St. has been fed out of a 4-inch main, which did not provide an adequate volume of water, Duke explained.

A 4-inch line in Sutton Alley and another 4-inch main on Norton St. now feed into a single 4-inch

The case of Lawrence James Smith, 20, of Aliquippa, accused of the fatal stabbing of William Morris Jr., 18, in a parking lot June 22 at Firemen's Hall, was to be heard today.

Liberals Cry Giveaway Of Tax Dollars

Communications Network To Be Run By Private Concern

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has on his desk today the communications satellite bill he wanted.

It sets up a private, profit-making corporation to run the U.S. portion of an eventual global network on space relay stations.

Deputies Quiz Akron Boy In Girl's Death

Pastor's Daughter Strangled, Summit Coroner Reports

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff's deputies questioned a teen - age boy today in the death of 12-year-old Marion Brubaker, a minister's daughter whose nude, beaten body was found in a woods near here home.

The 15-year-old boy reported finding the body late Monday in a thicket in Coventry Twp. He was questioned until the early hours of the morning and was given a lie detector test, then was sent to the detention home. Deputies indicated they would have more questions for him later.

An hour before the body was found Marion had been seen pedaling her bicycle on Portage Lakes Drive on a two-mile trip home from a branch library. She was on a shortcut path through the woods when she was killed.

The Summit County coroner said her death resulted from strangling. He was awaiting results of tests on whether the slim, dark-haired girl had been raped.

Deputies said the bruises and marks on her body indicated she put up an intensive struggle before her death.

Blood was found on the path, along with fragments of a bottle that may have been used as a club. Bruise marks covered the child's throat. Her clothing — a blouse, brassiere, shorts and tennis shoes—were scattered near the body and were ripped and shredded.

In Algeria Unrest

Army Head Calls Guerrilla Chiefs

ALGIERS (AP) — The chief of the regular Algerian army summoned guerrilla leaders to a meeting in eastern Algeria today in an effort to weld a common front against anti-Ben Bella guerrillas controlling Algiers and the surrounding area.

From his headquarters in western Algeria, Col. Houari Boumedienne called the commanders of Wilayas (military zones) Nos. 1, 2, 5 and 6 to the meeting in Setif, 150 miles east of Algiers on the road to Constantine.

The leaders of Wilayas 3 and 4, who chased Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau out of the capital, were not invited.

Boumedienne, chief of the 45,000-man regular army, clearly was attempting to unite most of Algeria's 100,000 troops against the anti-Ben Bella guerrilla commanders in central Algeria. But there was no sign that shooting was imminent.

Diplomatic observers believe the opposing sides will continue to try to avoid bloodshed. They fear, however, that a form of military dictatorship will emerge from the economic chaos and bitter political bickering that has prevailed since independence July 3.

The anti-Ben Bella leaders command an imposing force of toughened veterans of the war for independence against France. Wilaya 4, controlling Algiers, is believed to have 20,000 men under arms. Their supporters in Wilaya 3, in the Kabylie Mountains to the east, are estimated at 10,000.

Boumedienne's own troops are largely untested, having sat out most of the war in Morocco and Tunisia.

It was resistance to Ben Bella's efforts to bring the six guerrilla zones under a unified central command that caused Wilaya 4's rebellion against the Political Bureau, sending it in flight to Oran. The Algiers guerrillas accused the Political Bureau of betraying the revolution and launched bitter attacks against the West, Europeans and "neocolonialists."

One Killed; Italy Jarred

Homes Toppled As Quake Shakes Most Of Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A severe earthquake shook most of Greece for 20 seconds today, toppling homes in some areas. One death was reported.

The quake here was accompanied by strong tremors across southern Italy, where a quake last week took 20 lives. But no deaths were reported in Italy and officials said initial checks indicated the damage there was slight.

Nine persons were injured in Naples by falling as they rushed from their homes. Naples hospitals said five other persons suffered shock or heart attacks.

On the Amalfi coast of Italy where Jacqueline Kennedy is vacationing, the quake was barely felt. The American First Lady was sightseeing in the Amalfi Cathedral and did not notice the disturbance.

The Athens Seismological Service said the quake centered 65 miles southwest of Athens. That would put the epicenter at the town of Nafplion, in the eastern Peloponnesus.

Reports reaching Athens from ancient Corinth said a 90-year-old man was killed in the collapse of his home.

From Patrai, Greece's third largest port, came word that a number of homes were destroyed.

No damage to the Acropolis or the Parthenon, the ancient ruins on the hillside overlooking Athens, was apparent.

The quake struck the Peoponnesus peninsula at 1:02 p.m. It was also recorded on the islandof Crete and in southern Greece. Police said they were unable to get word on the extent of destruction and casualties because all communications south of Corinth were disrupted.

Line To Boost Water Supply For West End

Project Of $5,000 Will Provide 1,300 Feet Of New Main

The Board of Public Utilities decided Monday afternoon on a $5,000 project involving 1,300 feet of new 8-inch main that is designed to correct long-standing complaints of low water pressure in the W. 9th St. area.

The project calls for installation of the new main along Grant St. from St. Clair Ave. to Dresden Ave. to tie in with the existing 8-inch main on W. 9th St.

The board agreed to request Council to enact legislation authorizing purchase of the 1,300 feet of 8-inch pipe and fittings, estimated to cost about $5,000. The water department's distribution crew will install the line.

The complaints of low water pressure have been prevalent in the West End-Sunnyside are for many years. On several occasions the fire department has complained of an adequate supply for fighting blazes.

The condition has existed for years because an 8-inch line along W. 9th St. has been fed out of a 4-inch main, which did not provide an adequate volume of water, Duke explained.

A 4-inch line in Sutton Alley and another 4-inch main on Norton St. now feed into a single 4-inch

The women approved the selection of a small group, or steering committee who, with a member of the national staff, will study the situation and make recommendations to all adult members on the next steps to be taken.

It was announced some of the leaders attending are presently meeting with their troops and others will begin meeting soon.

The new 8-inch main will tie in with an existing 8-inch line on St. Clair Ave. at Grant St., the utilities board said.

Supt. Donald T. Duke said the lack of adequate supply has existed in the W. 9th St. area for uncounted years. The present 8-inch main there apparently was installed before street car service began on W. 9th, as the line lies under the old car right-of-way, he said.

It looked over the sewage treatment plant and the water works reservoirs, standpipes, treatment plant and pumping station. The general inspection continued until 6 p. m.

Further plans for remodeling the section of the post home not destroyed by the recent fire were outlined at a meeting of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 Monday night.

The entire upper section of the building was destroyed two months ago. The top section is being razed. This phase should be completed this week.

An advisory committee has recommended steel beams and a steel roof be utilized in the remaining section. The post will convert the first floor into a one-story post home.

Prices for the roofing have been received from two Youngstown firms. An architect will be employed to work out the final plans and submit them to the State Department of Buildings for approval.

The basement will be remodeled later and clubrooms will be installed.

William (Buck) Powell, commander, named three co-chairmen for the annual street fair to be held next week beginning Monday at 2 p. m. They are Harold Dickinson, William Bratt and Francis House.

Kathy Gitschier will be in charge of ticket sales.

House, adjutant, said the membership is ahead of last year. No meeting will be held Monday because of the Labor Day holiday and the street fair.

Youth Commission Urged

Rhodes' Proposal Aimed At Juvenile Delinquency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio youth commission with authority in a variety of areas concerning juvenile delinquency has been proposed by Republican gubernatorial candidate James A. Rhodes.

The suggested salaried three-member commission would have authority to:

Receive children for observation.

Replace them in institutions to deal with individual problems.

Discharge them when assured that the release would be in the best interest of the child and the public.

Order a child's release on parole, replace a child or order a new parole.

Require training for those children under its control.

Make agreements with other agencies for special care of children.

Rhodes said the commission would be established, through legislative action, as an independent and separate agency of government. It would replace the Division of Juvenile Research, Classification and Training in the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

"This commission would assume full responsibility for present state activities in the field of treatment and prevention of juvenile delinquency and establish and maintain close liaison with Ohio's juvenile courts," Rhodes said in releasing his plan Monday.

The three members of the commission would be appointed by the governor with Senate confirmation. One member would serve as chairman, a second as head of a division to operate institutions and a third as director of a division of community services for developing local juvenile programs.

Rhodes also proposed an advisory board of 12 unsalaried members to include at least four juvenile judges.

"The commission plan would give Ohio, for the first time, a comprehensive and unified approach to the total problem of delinquency in all of its phases—prevention, treatment and control," Rhodes said.

Rhodes said he had consulted "recognized leaders in the juvenile field, including outstanding Ohio Juvenile judges." He said the plan had received support of the majority leaders of the legislature.

Men Will Find The Answer

There is a threadbare speculation about population growth that goes like this:

In 1961 the population of the earth passed the three billion mark. If things go on as they are going at present, the number will double to six billion before the end of this century and to 12 billion by 2031—four times as many people in 70 years. If the trend continues the earth will be so overpopulated that each human being who wanted to survive would have to kill several thousand neighbors just to get enough land to raise enough food for himself.

The trick in this speculation is, of course, that the trend may not continue. Demographers point to some significant statistics. In Soviet Russia, where Marxist ideology favors unlimited population increase, rates of increase suggest that the people are resisting government policy. They resist official doctrine.

Birth rates in France and Ireland have been declining for decades, in line with a general decline throughout Western Europe. A United Nations report pointed out in 1959 that a stabilized and eventually a declining birth rate goes step in step with an improvement in economic and social conditions. The more people know, the more responsibility they feel for their family.

The present danger is that better medical care and public health in backward countries will swamp them with population before economic and social improvement have prompted their people to restrict the growth of their families.

In Egypt, cursed by poverty, President Gamal Abdel Nasser said last May, "This year we have added to our number 800,000 persons. May God bless them. We cannot go on at this rate."

In India, whose population has been going up at a rate of eight million a year, Prime Minister Nehru has declared, "Our five-year plans have no meaning if the population grows at a rate one can never catch up with."

In Ceylon, a malaria control program caused a decrease of 30 per cent in the death rate in a single year. But the Ceylon birth rate is 37 per thousand compared with a European rate of 19. Ceylon now is in danger of being swamped with people it cannot support.

The only encouraging aspect is that people themselves become aware of the problem and try to solve it. They are not like rabbits. Philip M. Hauser of the University of Chicago and director of the Population Research Training Center there, summed up the difference in these words:

"Anyone who claims to know what the future population of this nation, or any area, is going to be is either a fool or a charlatan. For we do not yet have sufficient knowledge to predict the course of the birth rate. Such projections are, nevertheless, much more than exercises in arithmetic. The fact that man is able to consider their consequences is one reason the projected numbers will never come to pass. For in recognizing the implications of his birth rate, mankind will proceed to modify it."

Nixon Learned A Lesson

Californians are having the benefit of another go-around on the merits of television "debating," a subject that still must make Richard Nixon wince when he thinks about it. His California opponent in the race for governor, Edmund G. Brown, now occupying the office and running for re-election, is being as wary about accepting an invitation to go on television as Mr. Nixon would be if he had a second chance to make his 1960 decision to "debate" John F. Kennedy.

Gov. Brown knows what Vice President Nixon found out in 1960 — that the man who already is on the scene is likely to have the scene stolen from him by the challenger. Everybody knows him; he is the governor. They know what he looks like and sounds like. They know how he thinks.

The former vice president of the United States has been away from California a long time. His attempt to get back into the political running makes him a challenger, an outsider. Californians are curious about him. They want to know more. As for Gov. Brown, they know everything there is to know.

In other words, Gov. Brown has everything to lose and nothing to gain by going on television against Richard Nixon. He knows this and Nixon knows it, too. That's why Nixon is pressing an invitation to present the show at Republican expense. He learned a lesson in 1960.

In 1964 there may be another round of so-called television "debates" in connection with the presidential campaign. Assuming that President Kennedy will be running for re-election and his opponent will be a relatively unknown Republican, someone like George Romney, can anyone doubt that the incumbent would have everything to lose and nothing to gain?

Moral: No one should be surprised if the Kennedy campaign of 1964 bars television "debating." President Kennedy has seen himself on television often enough to know what most of his countrymen have found out since 1960 — that he is not likely to outlast Red Skelton and Jack Benny as the grand old men of the medium.

But his opponent, whoever he is in 1964, might become an overnight sensation.

No Holds Barred In Cuba

On the reasonable assumption that something is cooking where there's so much steam and smoke, Cuba apparently is about to come into the news again.

Symptoms of government weakness have been detected by so many observers in so many forms it is a certainty the Castro regime is having trouble organizing Cuba according to communist specifications. This is not surprsing.

No satellite country ever has met communist specifications without trouble. The trouble is built into the specifications, which go aganst the gran of human nature in Cuba, Russia, Hungary, China, Czechoslovakia, Vietnam, Lithuania—everywhere.

Communist party members themselves cannot see eye to eye on the specifications. In Hungary, Chinese Communists are fighting Russian Communists. Communists in Yugoslavia fight Communists in both Peiping and Moscow. Albanian Communists fight Yugoslav Communists. Even Russian Communists cannot agree.

Communism is an unworkable system of economics and only a semi-workable system of politics when organized on police state lines.

This is the likeliest explanation for the reported military buildup in Cuba. Its purpose is not necessarily to protect Cuba from invasion, though that is an eventuality to be hoped for, but to protect Castro's puppet government from the consequences of growing dissatisfaction among the Cuban people.

It means as it always has meant before that no holds are barred when the object is to conquer a state. They were not barred in Hugary when dissatisfaction fed revolutionary fires; they won't be barred in Cuba. If Cubans must be purged to make Cuba safe for communism, the tanks will open fire.

As for the possibility of an invasion, it is exciting and almost encouraging. Sooner or later, the United States much reach the conclusion that Cuba as a direct threat to its security and the security of its hemispheric allies is intolerable. When that happens, any invasion of Cuba with a chance of overthrowing Castro's puppet government will deserve U.S. support.

The Hard Way

By Truman Twill

This one you could have seen coming.

British scientists have figured out how to make milk without a cow. At a time when the cow had been developed to a peak of perfection, so much so that the United States is drowning in a surplus of milk, the boys in white coats have figured out how to make something like milk by mashing up pea pods, cabbage leaves and weeds.

This is the greatest break-through since the boys figured out how to make something like wool by mashing up coal, something like cotton by mashing up wood and something like progress by mashing up people.

We are living smack-dab in an era of doing things the hard way. There's no joking in the admonition: "Think — There Must Be a Harder Way To Do This." We do it all the time.

There must be a Parkingson's Law so far unpublished that says: "Complications Multiply in Ratio to the Simplicities They Are Intended To Supplant." And in America they multiply even faster.

In Britain's industrial cities hundreds of thousands of workmen ride to and from their homes on bicycles and motor bikes—no expense, no traffic jams, no parking problems. In British cities, buses aredouble-decked — twice as much transportation in less than the space taken up by one behemoth bus in this country.

In the Old World a number of problems are worked out effortlessly on a thing called an abacus, requiring no electricity, no capital investment and no specialized training.

There are still places where people walk to the corner instead of firing up a two-ton juggernaut to get there; where no one ever heard of a psychiatrist or needed one; where no one ever told a human being supplanted by a machine that he should find something useful to do, for his health.

In this Era of the Hard Way, everything must be changed as quickly as possible. Airlines already going broke because there aren't enough passengers for planes that fly 550 an hour must have planes that go twice as fast so they can go broke twice as fast.

Industry, ever alert for quicker ways to get rid of manpower in favor of machine power because efficient machine power can be charged off and inefficient manpower must be paid for, is equally alert for stunts like stockpiling for defense to get rid of its products without having to rely on inefficient customers.

And now the boys in the white coats are working on a hard way to produce something that will take the place of milk.

Don't be surprised if another twist of their distorted genius is to find a hard way to make something like cowhide. Sorry. That's been done. But they might figure out how to mash up cows to make synthetic leather, which would be similar to a great project that has been under way for the last decade — how to mash up sheep's wool to make synthetic fibers which then could be marketed at premium prices under patents and trade names.

This is the Era of the Hard Way.

The Teamsters Are Island-Hopping

By Victor Riesel

HONOLULU

Before I sail east into the rising sun, I must tell you of Jimmy Hoffa's people going west in search of new horizons. Into every paradise a little rain must fall. So one day there came recently to Pago Pago — 2,300 miles southwest of here — one of Hoffa's lieutenants.

Victor Riesel

Pago Pago is the capital of American Somoa. This is a palm-studded set of seven islands. On them are some 20,000 American nationals —mostly Polynesian. They are about 9,000 miles from another island of palms known as Puerto Rico.

Now this is not an extraneous thought at all. The Teamsters have been spending hundreds of thousands of dollars trying to set up a powerful organization operating out of San Juan.

And I personally take it that the adventuring of Mr. Hoffa's lieutenant in Samoa is of the essence of Jimmy's dreams of empire—you know, the sun shall never set on it.

OR PERHAPS this is Hoffa's way of thumbing his thick thumb at President Kennedy, Arthur Goldberg, George Meany, et al.

I'm certain Jimmy H. has heard of the table talk at a "social" luncheon the President gave to national labor leaders on Aug. 8. Hoffa's enemy in the Puerto Rican and Chicago Sun, the Seafarers' Paul Hall, was there. He told JFK that he was spending considerable time fighting the Teamsters' chief.

AFL-CIO leader George Meany added that the battle against Hoffa was going well. Arthur Goldberg opined that Jimmy was on the ropes.

Perhaps. But the bonds have not yet been slipped on sufficiently tight to keep Hoffa's empire builders from roaming the outer reaches of the United States.

I learned here that the latest of these foragings was made by Arthur Rutledge. He obviously must be among the wisest of the Teamsters. For he has chosen the island of Oahu, the city of Honolulu here, to be his headquarters.

This keeps him some 5,500 miles from the home office and gives him the entire Pacific in which to roam. And roam he does.

LEAVING THE OFFICE of Teamster Local 996, of which he is president, he took off for Samoa about a month ago. He may have mixed a little pleasure with business. But he did survey the American outpost.

With Rutledge was Al Lolotai, described as prominent in Hawaii's Samoan community. Together with Lolotai and John A. Burns, an adviser to the U.S. delegation to the South Pacific Commission sessions in Samoa, Rutledge met with Samoa governor, Rex Lee.

This should fascinate Secretary of the Interior Udall and President Kennedy. It is the Department of the Interior which names the governor of Samoa. The South Pacific Commission is named with White House approval. Somebody should send Pago Pago a full report of what Hoffa and company have been saying about the administration and vice versa.

NONETHELESS, Hoffa's Mr. Rutledge, a crusty type chap, was well received by Samoa's officialdom. Once back in Honolulu, Rutledge made much of this trip and conference.

He told newsmen here that Samoa's Gov. Lee was quite genial. Rutledge said help is needed in educating these workers on what a union is, how it operates and what it can do. Brother Rutledge said the Teamsters are quite willing to help in this educational crusade.

It is not clear how Rutledge and his Teamsters will share their education with the Samoans.

As Rutledge put it:

"We have plans to establish communications and a measure of education through such communications and we hope to develop a program that would be acceptable to the governor."

FROM THIS Rutledge hopes to launch an organizing drive "at the right time"—especially among the territory's government workers.

Mr. Rutledge is a man of wide horizons. The Teamsters, for example, are apparently not entirely fulfilling. So he also is president of Local No. 5 here, Hotel and Restaurant Workers, AFL-CIO.

This means that Rutledge holds two offices, runs a dual headquarters, and clearly places the hotel and restaurant workers international union in violation of AFL-CIO policy.

This is the pattern of the teamsters and hotel union joint operation in Puerto Rico.

Fascinating, isn't it, that the teamsters should spend so much money island-hopping!

Mrs. William Bodiner and Mrs. Josephine Turpen were received as new members of the Three-Ace Club when it met at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Bowdler of Thompson Ave.

Miss Mary Prince was chosen queen of the Walker 4-H Club.

'Shelled Anew'

Headlines reiterate, "Quemoy Shelled Anew". One terse paragraph tells the story with deadly routine.

At times, however, the battered little island off the coast of southeast China returns to prominence in the news. This happened recently when Communists began a massive military buildup on the mainland—just five miles away.

But life goes on — whether the Chinese Communists are lobbing a few shells onto the island or mustering 400,000 men in an invasion threat. And, surprisingly, the material lot of Quemoy's 45,000 civilians has improved strikingly in the past decade.

Though the Chinese Reds have pumped more than a million artillery shells into Quemoy since 1949, when they took over the China mainland, life expectancy on the island has risen. Shellfire has killed less than 200 civilians, barely outranking measles as a cause of death.

Better hygiene has greatly increased the life span. Thirteen years ago, Quemoy was a notorious breeding spot for bubonic and pulmonary plague; rodent control and inoculation have practically wiped out these killers.

A Sino-American organization called the Joint Commission on Rural Reconstruction is chiefly responsible for conquering the plague. The JCRR also has taught modern farming methods, tested new crops, encouraged the use of fertilizers and introduced pest control.

Time For Truth

By David Lawrence

We Must Counter Soviet Propaganda

Robert F. Kennedy, attorney general and spokesman occasionally on matters of public policy for his distinguished brother, the President of the United States, has written a book — just published — which is based on observations he made on his recent travels abroad.

David Lawrence

He urges the United States goverment to start a vigorous campaign to "sell the truth" to students and intellectuals overseas.

This focuses attention on one of America's biggest weaknesses in the Cold War.

It's true that the Soviet Union spends many times as much money as Congress appropriates for what are called "foreign information programs," but the ineffectiveness of the American effort doesn't seem to be due either to a lack of efficient personnel or to a dearth of funds. It stems from the absence of a clear-cut policy at the top.

Again and again, outside advisers are brought in, but neither the State Department nor the White House in this or in preceding administrations has laid down forceful principles that would constitute a constructive policy of external propaganda.

PLAINLY, it is impossible to educate the rest of the world about America primarily by sending abroad a handpicked group of members of Congress, as Attorney General Kennedy suggests in his book. This isn't a job solely for speechmakers or lecturers sent out under the auspices of the American government. Desirable as some of these missions may be, the problem itself is bigger and has aspects far exceeding their scope.

What is needed is a strong offensive operation to counter the Soviet propaganda which is spread throughout the world. It is useless to argue with students or intellectuals who are in league with trained Communist agents.

It is much more important to demonstrate that these same intellectuals and students in Asia and Africa and Latin America are stooges who have been taught to sing the praises of Red China and the Soviet Union.

Anyone who is realistic about the methods of Communist infiltration knows that speeches by a chosen group of senators or representatives sent abroad aren't going to sway such Communist sympathizers, though American speakers can make a counter-offensive of their own.

America's opportunity will, however, come largely in presenting the truth about the Soviet Union to all peoples through the world's press and radio.

The normal channels for doing this are open to the American government whenever it wishes to speak its mind and give the truth about official United States policy to the world.

IT MIGHT be asked why this hasn't been done before or isn't being done now. The answer is that the State Department and some of the President's advisers now are and have been obsessed with the idea that the United States must not increase tensions or say unkind things about the Soviets, lest America be accused of blocking diplomatic agreements or retarding "negotiations."

A pussyfoot or supersensitive policy is a waste of money on the propaganda front in the Cold War.

Time and again the United States government has missed the boat on the export of its information programs because it has allowed itself to become too preoccupied with debate on controversies going on within this country.

American officials feel, for instance, that they must show more concern over what the Communists say about a demonstration in Albany, Ga., than over the practices of racial and religious discrimination inside the Soviet Union affecting millions and millions of persons there.

Private citizens and organizations, through trips abroad, can, as the attorney general urges, do a big job of helping to educate the leaders in other countries about the American system and way of life.

Student and other groups from those areas can be brought here to see the United States for themselves.

THE OFFICIAL propaganda, on the other hand, must be forthright, and the American government money apologizing for defects here and there in the United States.

It is more important, for example, to present over the world's air waves a vigorous exposition of people's capitalism as it has succeeded in America.

But, for some raeson or other, various articles and speeches distributed by our government abroad give the impression that the United States has a guilt complex about our private-enterprise system and feels that maybe government ownership might be better in the long run.

The Communists are quick to perceive such indecisiveness and faltering attitudes and to take full advantage of them on the propaganda front.

What is needed is a courageous avowal of the merits of the American system and a constant reiteration of the fact that, with all its faults, it still has produced a higher standard of living and greater personal freedom for more human beings than has any other system for any other people in the world.

A-Bomb Tattler

By Michael Salzer

UPPSAIA, SWEDEN

Whenever an atomic bomb is detonated in Russia the Seismological Institute in Uppsala is first with the news.

Dr. Marcus Baath, who reads the sensitive instruments in the cellar of the modest laboratory in this Swedish university town, is recognized today as a foremost expert on "artificial" earthquakes.

Like a graphologist, he can identify, analyze, define and interpret the "handwriting" of the bombs and the peculiar features of such detonations.

Since 1958 he has identified most test explosions, including those in the Arctic Sea, Siberia, Nevada and in the Sahara, and has located their positions to within six miles of their location.

In his view, a test ban agreement would be possible today purely on the basis of a net of control stations disposed around the globe.

"With the most sensitive instruments available" Dr. Baath told me, "one could detect, locate and identify, for example most Russian tests—underground, underwater and in the air—from one kiloton upwards, using only control stations outside Russia."

DR. BAATH has registered quite small explosions over distances of 3,000 to 4,000 miles.

He concedes that some underground explosions could be deliberately muffled, or concealed, by carrying them out in earthquake areas. Nevertheless, a worldwide network of the latest seismic instruments would make it very risky to attempt a clandestine series of underground tests.

It might be possible to conceal one or two very small experiments but a series of any military significance would be detected.

Thus, even if 100 per cent detection and identification were not possible, a system could be evolved which would effectively deter any nation from clandestine violation of a test-ban treaty. This "deterrent" would be effective, he believes, with very few, or even no, on-site inspections.

Recently Dr. Baath briefed the Swedish disarmament delegation in Geneva on the technical suppositions for the test ban proposal of the neutral nations.

Dr. Baath has made his work his hobby. His chief assistant is his wife, Ingred, mother of four children, who spends all the time she can in her husband's laboratory.

She assists him in reading the charts of the old Wichert Seismoits granite foundation in the university cellar in 1904, and which still faithfully records readings on carbonzed paper rolls.

There are also six electromagnetic instruments of modern type, also firmly imbedded in the granite rock, which register the faintest vibrations on photographic paper which is daily developed.

STUDYING the jagged peaks and valleys of the bomb explosions Dr. Baath and his wife can define their size, height or depth, distance, location and even the geological composition of the testing ground. But "natural" earthquakes are still their main job.

"These are all fascinating problems" said Dr. Baath, "I find my research so exciting and so many-sided—I just don't have anytime or interest for other hobbies."

And I personally take it that the adventuring of Mr. Hoffa's lieutenant in Samoa is of the essence of Jimmy's dreams of empire—you know, the sun shall never set on it.

OR PERHAPS this is Hoffa's way of thumbing his thick thumb at President Kennedy, Arthur Goldberg, George Meany, et al.

I'm certain Jimmy H. has heard of the table talk at a "social" luncheon the President gave to national labor leaders on Aug. 8. Hoffa's enemy in the Puerto Rican and Chicago Sun, the Seafarers' Paul Hall, was there. He told JFK that he was spending considerable time fighting the Teamsters' chief.

AFL-CIO leader George Meany added that the battle against Hoffa was going well. Arthur Goldberg opined that Jimmy was on the ropes.

Perhaps. But the bonds have not yet been slipped on sufficiently tight to keep Hoffa's empire builders from roaming the outer reaches of the United States.

I learned here that the latest of these foragings was made by Arthur Rutledge. He obviously must be among the wisest of the Teamsters. For he has chosen the island of Oahu, the city of Honolulu here, to be his headquarters.

This keeps him some 5,500 miles from the home office and gives him the entire Pacific in which to roam. And roam he does.

LEAVING THE OFFICE of Teamster Local 996, of which he is president, he took off for Samoa about a month ago. He may have mixed a little pleasure with business. But he did survey the American outpost.

With Rutledge was Al Lolotai, described as prominent in Hawaii's Samoan community. Together with Lolotai and John A. Burns, an adviser to the U.S. delegation to the South Pacific Commission sessions in Samoa, Rutledge met with Samoa governor, Rex Lee.

This should fascinate Secretary of the Interior Udall and President Kennedy. It is the Department of the Interior which names the governor of Samoa. The South Pacific Commission is named with White House approval. Somebody should send Pago Pago a full report of what Hoffa and company have been saying about the administration and vice versa.

NONETHELESS, Hoffa's Mr. Rutledge, a crusty type chap, was well received by Samoa's officialdom. Once back in Honolulu, Rutledge made much of this trip and conference.

He told newsmen here that Samoa's Gov. Lee was quite genial. Rutledge said help is needed in educating these workers on what a union is, how it operates and what it can do. Brother Rutledge said the Teamsters are quite willing to help in this educational crusade.

It is not clear how Rutledge and his Teamsters will share their education with the Samoans.

As Rutledge put it:

"We have plans to establish communications and a measure of education through such communications and we hope to develop a program that would be acceptable to the governor."

FROM THIS Rutledge hopes to launch an organizing drive "at the right time"—especially among the territory's government workers.

Mr. Rutledge is a man of wide horizons. The Teamsters, for example, are apparently not entirely fulfilling. So he also is president of Local No. 5 here, Hotel and Restaurant Workers, AFL-CIO.

This means that Rutledge holds two offices, runs a dual headquarters, and clearly places the hotel and restaurant workers international union in violation of AFL-CIO policy.

This is the pattern of the teamsters and hotel union joint operation in Puerto Rico.

Fascinating, isn't it, that the teamsters should spend so much money island-hopping!

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Rev. Stanley Pugh was named pastor of the Chester Free Methodist Church.

George White and C. A. McLaughlin of Wellsville represented Diamond Council No. 5, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, at the state convention in Columbus.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Walter Ingalls of Glenn Falls, N. Y., was named assistant coach at Wellsville High School.

Mrs. William Bodiner and Mrs. Josephine Turpen were received as new members of the Three-Ace Club when it met at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Bowdler of Thompson Ave.

Miss Mary Prince was chosen queen of the Walker 4-H Club.

'Shelled Anew'

Headlines reiterate, "Quemoy Shelled Anew". One terse paragraph tells the story with deadly routine.

At times, however, the battered little island off the coast of southeast China returns to prominence in the news. This happened recently when Communists began a massive military buildup on the mainland—just five miles away.

But life goes on — whether the Chinese Communists are lobbing a few shells onto the island or mustering 400,000 men in an invasion threat. And, surprisingly, the material lot of Quemoy's 45,000 civilians has improved strikingly in the past decade.

Though the Chinese Reds have pumped more than a million artillery shells into Quemoy since 1949, when they took over the China mainland, life expectancy on the island has risen. Shellfire has killed less than 200 civilians, barely outranking measles as a cause of death.

Better hygiene has greatly increased the life span. Thirteen years ago, Quemoy was a notorious breeding spot for bubonic and pulmonary plague; rodent control and inoculation have practically wiped out these killers.

A Sino-American organization called the Joint Commission on Rural Reconstruction is chiefly responsible for conquering the plague. The JCRR also has taught modern farming methods, tested new crops, encouraged the use of fertilizers and introduced pest control.

Time For Truth

By David Lawrence

We Must Counter Soviet Propaganda

Robert F. Kennedy, attorney general and spokesman occasionally on matters of public policy for his distinguished brother, the President of the United States, has written a book — just published — which is based on observations he made on his recent travels abroad.

David Lawrence

He urges the United States goverment to start a vigorous campaign to "sell the truth" to students and intellectuals overseas.

This focuses attention on one of America's biggest weaknesses in the Cold War.

It's true that the Soviet Union spends many times as much money as Congress appropriates for what are called "foreign information programs," but the ineffectiveness of the American effort doesn't seem to be due either to a lack of efficient personnel or to a dearth of funds. It stems from the absence of a clear-cut policy at the top.

Again and again, outside advisers are brought in, but neither the State Department nor the White House in this or in preceding administrations has laid down forceful principles that would constitute a constructive policy of external propaganda.

PLAINLY, it is impossible to educate the rest of the world about America primarily by sending abroad a handpicked group of members of Congress, as Attorney General Kennedy suggests in his book. This isn't a job solely for speechmakers or lecturers sent out under the auspices of the American government. Desirable as some of these missions may be, the problem itself is bigger and has aspects far exceeding their scope.

What is needed is a strong offensive operation to counter the Soviet propaganda which is spread throughout the world. It is useless to argue with students or intellectuals who are in league with trained Communist agents.

It is much more important to demonstrate that these same intellectuals and students in Asia and Africa and Latin America are stooges who have been taught to sing the praises of Red China and the Soviet Union.

Anyone who is realistic about the methods of Communist infiltration knows that speeches by a chosen group of senators or representatives sent abroad aren't going to sway such Communist sympathizers, though American speakers can make a counter-offensive of their own.

America's opportunity will, however, come largely in presenting the truth about the Soviet Union to all peoples through the world's press and radio.

The normal channels for doing this are open to the American government whenever it wishes to speak its mind and give the truth about official United States policy to the world.

IT MIGHT be asked why this hasn't been done before or isn't being done now. The answer is that the State Department and some of the President's advisers now are and have been obsessed with the idea that the United States must not increase tensions or say unkind things about the Soviets, lest America be accused of blocking diplomatic agreements or retarding "negotiations."

A pussyfoot or supersensitive policy is a waste of money on the propaganda front in the Cold War.

Time and again the United States government has missed the boat on the export of its information programs because it has allowed itself to become too preoccupied with debate on controversies going on within this country.

American officials feel, for instance, that they must show more concern over what the Communists say about a demonstration in Albany, Ga., than over the practices of racial and religious discrimination inside the Soviet Union affecting millions and millions of persons there.

Private citizens and organizations, through trips abroad, can, as the attorney general urges, do a big job of helping to educate the leaders in other countries about the American system and way of life.

Student and other groups from those areas can be brought here to see the United States for themselves.

THE OFFICIAL propaganda, on the other hand, must be forthright, and the American government money apologizing for defects here and there in the United States.

It is more important, for example, to present over the world's air waves a vigorous exposition of people's capitalism as it has succeeded in America.

But, for some raeson or other, various articles and speeches distributed by our government abroad give the impression that the United States has a guilt complex about our private-enterprise system and feels that maybe government ownership might be better in the long run.

The Communists are quick to perceive such indecisiveness and faltering attitudes and to take full advantage of them on the propaganda front.

What is needed is a courageous avowal of the merits of the American system and a constant reiteration of the fact that, with all its faults, it still has produced a higher standard of living and greater personal freedom for more human beings than has any other system for any other people in the world.

A-Bomb Tattler

By Michael Salzer

UPPSAIA, SWEDEN

Whenever an atomic bomb is detonated in Russia the Seismological Institute in Uppsala is first with the news.

Dr. Marcus Baath, who reads the sensitive instruments in the cellar of the modest laboratory in this Swedish university town, is recognized today as a foremost expert on "artificial" earthquakes.

Like a graphologist, he can identify, analyze, define and interpret the "handwriting" of the bombs and the peculiar features of such detonations.

Since 1958 he has identified most test explosions, including those in the Arctic Sea, Siberia, Nevada and in the Sahara, and has located their positions to within six miles of their location.

In his view, a test ban agreement would be possible today purely on the basis of a net of control stations disposed around the globe.

"With the most sensitive instruments available" Dr. Baath told me, "one could detect, locate and identify, for example most Russian tests—underground, underwater and in the air—from one kiloton upwards, using only control stations outside Russia."

DR. BAATH has registered quite small explosions over distances of 3,000 to 4,000 miles.

He concedes that some underground explosions could be deliberately muffled, or concealed, by carrying them out in earthquake areas. Nevertheless, a worldwide network of the latest seismic instruments would make it very risky to attempt a clandestine series of underground tests.

It might be possible to conceal one or two very small experiments but a series of any military significance would be detected.

Thus, even if 100 per cent detection and identification were not possible, a system could be evolved which would effectively deter any nation from clandestine violation of a test-ban treaty. This "deterrent" would be effective, he believes, with very few, or even no, on-site inspections.

Recently Dr. Baath briefed the Swedish disarmament delegation in Geneva on the technical suppositions for the test ban proposal of the neutral nations.

Dr. Baath has made his work his hobby. His chief assistant is his wife, Ingred, mother of four children, who spends all the time she can in her husband's laboratory.

She assists him in reading the charts of the old Wichert Seismo-its granite foundation in the university cellar in 1904, and which still faithfully records readings on carbonzed paper rolls.

There are also six electromagnetic instruments of modern type, also firmly imbedded in the granite rock, which register the faintest vibrations on photographic paper which is daily developed.

STUDYING the jagged peaks and valleys of the bomb explosions Dr. Baath and his wife can define their size, height or depth, distance, location and even the geological composition of the testing ground. But "natural" earthquakes are still their main job.

"These are all fascinating problems" said Dr. Baath, "I find my research so exciting and so many-sided—I just don't have anytime or interest for other hobbies."

Edward Kennedy And McCormack Clash In Debate

Judge Gives Ruling On Mayor Candidates

CLEVELAND (AP) — Candidates for mayor of Cleveland at the Nov. 6 election should be chosen through partisan primaries held Oct. 2 or may file as independents by submitting petitions with a total of signatures equal to seven per cent of the last gubernatorial vote. That was the ruling made by Common Pleas Judge Eugene R. McNeill of Van Wert Monday.

An appeal from the ruling is expected to reach the appellate court in about a week, but County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan and the Cuyahoga County Elections Board believe Judge McNeill's ruling in the Citizens' League suit will be upheld. Candidates' petitions will be accepted until 4 p.m. Sept. 21.

Edward Kennedy And McCormack Clash In Debate

BOSTON (AP) — If President Kennedy's youngest brother were simply "Edward Moore"—instead of Edward Moore Kennedy—his candidacy for the U.S. Senate, in his first try for elective office, "would be a joke," his rival for the Democratic nomination says.

The two youthful candidates for the Massachusetts nomination—Kennedy, 30, and State Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., 34, nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., met Monday night on the debating platform.

Television cameras and radio microphones carried their words throughout the state and beyond.

McCormack went quickly on the attack with his reference to the magic Kennedy name.

Kennedy said the candidates "should not be talking about families or personalities, but about the people's destiny in Massachusetts."

Voters twice this year have rejected a 1.9-mill boost over the current rate. If the 12.55-mill rate is defeated, the tax rate would automatically revert to 8.55 mills—the charter limitation.

Salineville Levy Set On Fireplugs

SALINEVILLE — A resolution to submit a proposed 2-mill levy for replacement of village fire hydrants in the November general election was approved by Council Monday night.

Council authorized the vote for the three-year proposal in efforts to replace a large number of fire plugs, which are over 60 years old.

A SIMILAR proposal was turned down in the November 1961 election 503-369. However, Mayor Stanley Fitch said the proposal at that time was worded as a special fire department issue, and many voters misunderstood the issue.

In other business last night, Council formally approved a resolution granting use of village fire equipment in the newly-organized mutual aid program of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association. Council also authorized the village's participation in the new county Civil Defense organization.

Mayor Fitch reported the village's permit to discharge sewage has been renewed through April 1963 by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board.

The action came after representatives of the Madison Engineering Co. and village officials tentatively selected two new sites for a proposed disposal plant in the East End, meeting the board's requirements for continuing steps toward the project.

DISCUSSION was held on proposals for stop signs on Foundry Hill Rd. and Washington St., and ordinances are to be prepared authorizing a three-way stop sign system at Foundry Hill Rd. and a County Road and a single stop sign at Washington St. and Route 39.

Tom Gallagher of Jefferson St. asked Council if the village's curfew for youngsters was being enforced, referring to a recent overturning of tombstones at St. Patrick's Cemetery.

Police Chief Roy Lewis said the curfew — 10 p.m. for youngsters under 16 and 11 p.m. for older teen-agers — was being enforced. Mayor Fitch suggested a stricter enforcement.

—:—

DISCUSSION was held on complaints of cars parked on Main St. so as to obstruct motorists' views from Schoolhouse Hill Rd., and it was suggested parking be banned 30 feet from the intersection.

The County Health Department reported through a letter that the owner of a house in Hunter Alley, source of sanitation complaints, has been directed to remedy the situation by Sept. 25.

Mayor Fitch proposed Council meet once a month during September and October as a "vacation" measure. Following discussion, an ordinance calling for such a schedule was ordered prepared for the next meeting Sept. 11 in a split vote.

Voting in favor were Councilman Don Lewis, Gillis Earl, Clyde Polen and Mrs. Kate Water. Opposed were Councilmen John Beadnell and Orvel Tolson.

MAYOR FITCH had previously suggested such a schedule as an economy move.

Fitch reported he plans to confer with F. A. Strabley and another heating firm representative concerning possible revisions of the heating system at the Village Hall.

It is to be determined if it would be feasible to convert to coal burning, to install a special pump in the present gas system or to continue with the present system as is.

Councilman Lewis reported plumbing repairs have been completed at the apartment at the fire station.

THE STREET committee reported Herb Leek of West End will grant use of his property for a widening of a curve in the West End street if a three-foot retaining wall is constructed.

Pete Growall, street supervisor, was requested to make various sewer and street repairs or improvements as relayed by councilmen. Growall and Mayor Fitch are to study catch basin repairs where the intersection of Route 39 and Main St. is to be widened.

Chief Lewis reported four arrests made so far in August, 1,186 miles patroled, a breaking and entering investigated, three traffic accidents, five cases of vandalism and 10 home disturbances checked.

COUNCIL authorized a formal commendation for the officers and leaders of the Little League for their services during the season.

Councilmen suggested a clarification of a resolution approved earlier this month concerning release of village property which a Review story indicated would not be done without payment. Councilmen said no property would be released for any terms.

BLACK MAGIC. Once again the black dress is a stabilizing factor in new fall fashions and was shown at many early-season previews for 1962. This elegant, yet basic black outfit features a bell-boy styled jacket exquisitely trimmed with mink cuffs and collar. It is worn over a smartly - styled princess-shaped dress. The design is available in evening (shown) and street length.

40 Teenagers Cited In 'Hell Week' Activities

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — About 300 teenagers, whooping it up in high school fraternity and sorority "Hell week" activities kept Charleston police on the run Monday night, and more than 40 of them ended up at the booking desk at police headquarters.

Police said the first disturbance broke out on downtown Capitol Street. They managed to break that up, and arrested one boy who was prancing about in feminine lingerie.

Later, a crowd swarmed noisily around a drive-in restaurant in the Kanawha City section, blowing horns and shouting.

Five city police cars and a squad of State Police were dispatched to the scene. Officers arrested about 35 teenagers, mostly boys, and charged them with disorderly conduct.

About midnight, another disturbance broke ut and police returned to arrest six others.

"It was just a teen - age riot," said Patrolman J. E. Robinson. "There were between 200 and 300 youngsters shouting and using profanity and blaring their horns."

City Hall–Post Office

Wellsville Jaycees Again Back Combined Project

The Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night confirmed its previous backing of the proposed combined City Hall-Post Office project for the city.

The general membership again voted its support of the proposal at the meeting in the Jaycee Hall.

Residents will vote on a $250,000 bond issue at the November election for construction of a new City Hall. The plan calls for renting the ground - floor space to the Postal Department. City officials have said the building need not be constructed if the government does not sign a lease.

Guests included Councilman Allen Baldwin, School Supt. Lowell Myers, Walter Henthorn, Carl Colvert and past presidents Jack Lanam, Wayne Rose and Bill Brown. Twenty - six members were present.

Tom Jones, chaplain, gave the invocation. Myers spoke on the duties of a school superintendent. A question-and-answer period followed.

Jerry Russell, chairman, reported the judges have been selected for the beauty contest phase of the Jaycee Labor Day program Monday. A full-day schedule of activities is planned, including a parade and free dance.

Nick Grande of Esther Ave. was inducted as a new member. The Jaycees gave a vote of thanks to Miss Kitty McKinnon, manager of the Junior Jaycee-ettes, for winning a first-prize trophy at the recent Highlandtown parade.

Nunzio S. Lombardozzi, president, reported the completion of the community activity calendar project. He was in charge.

Work on the hall will begin after other commitments are completed. Letters were read from American Legion Post 70, Dr. John Carrigg and Bob Young, District 6 vice president, commenting on the business-like manner of a board meeting they attended.

Frank Fusco, chairman, gave a report on the Jaycee phase of the city cleanup campaign.

Members will report nightly at 6 at Hammond Park to complete work on a pavilion. Dick Kevan is chairman. The new pavilion will be dedicated Jaycee Day. Each member is to take a hammer, saw and other tools.

The Jaycee phase of the new entrance to the football stadium is about 90 per cent completed. It will be dedicated at the opening game.

Lombardozzi said the "pass-the-gavel" campaign among various chapters will resume next month.

Copies of the budget were distributed. New insurance policies were approved. A club social will be held at Hammond Park Monday afternoon.

The membership approved a proposal to form a Junior Rifle Club. A report was heard on the July Presidents' Council at Minerva. A District 6 meeting will be held at Canton Sept. 5.

A membership report shows 47 members. Sixty - three are needed to meet the goal.

The Jaycees went on record approving a proposal for formation of a Community Chest program in Wellsville. Other civic organizations are aiding in the move.

Steelworkers Aid Effort To Enroll Beaver Voters

The United Steelworkers District 20 office at Ambridge has opened a campaign to enroll unregistered voters in Beaver County.

Kay Kluz, district director, in a letter to local union presidents, recording secretaries and legislative committees, said that "over 31,800 citizens of Beaver County are not registered to vote." The last day to register in a schedule announced by the Beaver County Registration Commission is Sept. 17.

Kluz said: "If the citizens of Beaver County fail to register by Sept. 17, they will have denied themselves the most basic of their American rights — the right to vote!"

The letter said the legislative committee of District 20 has advanced substantial funds to the Labor Council of Beaver County. Individual local unions also have contributed. These funds, in addition to COPE contributions, are to be spent in an effort to register the unqualified voters.

"In addition to this effort, the District 20 legislative committee is undertaking a comprehensive public relations program urging the unregistered to enroll in those portions of Ohio and Allegheny County where we have plants, as well as Beaver County," Kluz said.

"While these efforts are being directed primarily at our union membership, we, as individuals, should do all we can to urge every unregistered citizen to register regardless of race or creed in the political party of his choice."

Additional schedules of field registrations will be distributed at mill gates and will be available at the local union offices.

In the Midland and South Side area, the field registrations include Midland and Glasgow at the Midland Borough Building and Ohioville and Industry Borough at the Fairview School in Ohioville, both on Sept. 7.

Greene, Raccoon and Shippingport registration is today at the school building on Center Grange Rd. in Center Township. Shippingport, is also today at the Monaca Borough Building.

Hours will be 1 to 9 p. m. for the field registration. Any Beaver County resident also may register at the Courthouse at Beaver from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. The county office will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 9 p. m. on Sept. 17.

Registration Slated For South Side Area

The Beaver County Registration Commission announced that a field registration will be held Wednesday from 1 to 9 p.m. at South Side elementary school on Route 151.

This will be for residents of the Hookstown, Hanover Township and Georgetown area.

Salineville Levy Set On Fireplugs

SALINEVILLE — A resolution to submit a proposed 2-mill levy for replacement of village fire hydrants in the November general election was approved by Council Monday night.

Council authorized the vote for the three-year proposal in efforts to replace a large number of fire plugs, which are over 60 years old.

A SIMILAR proposal was turned down in the November 1961 election 563-369. However, Mayor Stanley Fitch said the proposal at that time was worded as a special fire department issue, and many voters misunderstood the issue.

In other business last night, Council formally approved a resolution granting use of village fire equipment in the newly-organized mutual aid program of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association. Council also authorized the village's participation in the new county Civil Defense organization.

Mayor Fitch reported the village's permit to discharge sewage has been renewed through April 1963 by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board.

The action came after representatives of the Madison Engineering Co. and village officials tentatively selected two new sites for a proposed disposal plant in the East End, meeting the board's requirements for continuing steps toward the project.

—:—

DISCUSSION was held on proposals for stop signs on Foundry Hill Rd. and Washington St., and ordinances are to be prepared authorizing a three-way stop sign system at Foundry Hill Rd. and a County Road and a single stop sign at Washington St. and Route 39.

Tom Gallagher of Jefferson St. asked Council if the village's curfew for youngsters was being enforced, referring to a recent overturning of tombstones at St. Patrick's Cemetery.

Police Chief Roy Lewis said the curfew — 10 p.m. for youngsters under 16 and 11 p.m. for older teen-agers — was being enforced. Mayor Fitch suggested a stricter enforcement.

—:—

DISCUSSION was held on complaints of cars parked on Main St. so as to obstruct motorists' views from Schoolhouse Hill Rd., and it was suggested parking be banned 30 feet from the intersection.

The County Health Department reported through a letter that the owner of a house in Hunter Alley, source of sanitation complaints, has been directed to remedy the situation by Sept. 25.

Mayor Fitch proposed Council meet once a month during September and October as a "vacation" measure. Following discussion, an ordinance calling for such a schedule was ordered prepared for the next meeting Sept. 11 in a split vote.

Voting in favor were Councilman Don Lewis, Gillis Earl, Clyde Polen and Mrs. Kate Water. Opposed were Councilmen John Beadnell and Orvel Tolson.

MAYOR FITCH had previously suggested such a schedule as an economy move.

Fitch reported he plans to confer with F. A. Strabley and another heating firm representative concerning possible revisions of the heating system at the Village Hall.

It is to be determined if it would be feasible to convert to coal burning, to install a special pump in the present gas system or to continue with the present system as is.

Councilman Lewis reported plumbing repairs have been completed at the apartment at the fire station.

THE STREET committee reported Herb Leek of West End will grant use of his property for a widening of a curve in the West End street if a three-foot retaining wall is constructed.

Pete Growall, street supervisor, was requested to make various sewer and street repairs or improvements as relayed by councilmen. Growall and Mayor Fitch are to study catch basin repairs where the intersection of Route 39 and Main St. is to be widened.

Chief Lewis reported four arrests made so far in August, 1,186 miles patroled, a breaking and entering investigated, three traffic accidents, five cases of vandalism and 10 home disturbances checked.

COUNCIL authorized a formal commendation for the officers and leaders of the Little League for their services during the season.

Councilmen suggested a clarification of a resolution approved earlier this month concerning release of village property which a Review story indicated would not be done without payment. Councilmen said no property would be released for any terms.

40 Teenagers Cited In 'Hell Week' Activities

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — About 300 teenagers, whooping it up in high school fraternity and sorority "Hell week" activities kept Charleston police on the run Monday night, and more than 40 of them ended up at the booking desk at police headquarters.

Police said the first disturbance broke out on downtown Capitol Street. They managed to break that up, and arrested one boy who was prancing about in feminine lingerie.

Later, a crowd swarmed noisily around a drive-in restaurant in the Kanawha City section, blowing horns and shouting.

Five city police cars and a squad of State Police were dispatched to the scene. Officers arrested about 35 teenagers, mostly boys, and charged them with disorderly conduct.

Steelworkers Aid Effort To Enroll Beaver Voters

The United Steelworkers District 20 office at Ambridge has opened a campaign to enroll unregistered voters in Beaver County.

Kay Kluz, district director, in a letter to local union presidents, recording secretaries and legislative committees, said that "over 31,800 citizens of Beaver County are not registered to vote." The last day to register in a schedule announced by the Beaver County Registration Commission is Sept. 17.

Kluz said: "If the citizens of Beaver County fail to register by Sept. 17, they will have denied themselves the most basic of their American rights — the right to vote!"

The letter said the legislative committee of District 20 has advanced substantial funds to the Labor Council of Beaver County. Individual local unions also have contributed. These funds, in addition to COPE contributions, are to be spent in an effort to register the unqualified voters.

"In addition to this effort, the District 20 legislative committee is undertaking a comprehensive public relations program urging the unregistered to enroll in those portions of Ohio and Allegheny County where we have plants, as well as Beaver County," Kluz said.

"While these efforts are being directed primarily at our union membership, we, as individuals, should do all we can to urge every unregistered citizen to register regardless of race or creed in the political party of his choice."

Additional schedules of field registrations will be distributed at mill gates and will be available at the local union offices.

In the Midland and South Side area, the field registrations include Midland and Glasgow at the Midland Borough Building and Ohioville and Industry Borough at the Fairview School in Ohioville, both on Sept. 7.

Greene, Raccoon and Shippingport registration is today at the school building on Center Grange Rd. in Center Township. Shippingport, is also today at the Monaca Borough Building.

Hours will be 1 to 9 p. m. for the field registration. Any Beaver County resident also may register at the Courthouse at Beaver from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. The county office will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 9 p. m. on Sept. 17.

Registration Slated For South Side Area

The Beaver County Registration Commission announced that a field registration will be held Wednesday from 1 to 9 p.m. at South Side elementary school on Route 151.

This will be for residents of the Hookstown, Hanover Township and Georgetown area.

Hugh Downs On 'Tonight'

NBC made a merciful decision when Hugh Downs was eliminated as heir to Jack Paar's throne on the "Tonight" show. Downs' sincerity may proper empathy while he pitches hair dressing, cigarettes and other sundries, but as an entertainer or emcee on his own, Downs is about as provocative as a recreation director at a day camp for 6-year-olds. When Downs played handmaiden to Paar, his detailed explanations of how the tsetse fly flies or why Billy Graham preaches were amusing digressions. Now we know, however, that what made Downs entertaining was Paar's reaction to him and not Downs himself.

Hal Humphrey

AS LONG as Paar was on hand to berate Downs (all in good fun, you understand) for these learned interruptions, Downs shaped up as quite a fellow. Through a sort of accidental chemistry, Paar also benefited by Downs' straight-laced attitude. It made Paar look more like the unwitting devil, the role he loved best of all.

But without Paar, or someone to keep telling us what a fine fellow Downs is, he actually turns out to be darned dull. Like Liberace, he's a great hit with mothers who know their daughters married the wrong man, but that still is only a minority segment of the population.

On a recent "Tonight" show, during a week when Downs was the No. 1 man, he almost succeeded in putting his guests to sleep. The home audience must have dropped off faster than if it had been doused with a massive Mickey Finn.

WITHOUT A SCRIPT, Downs is deadly as an introducer of talent and purveyor of light conversation. When he introduced comic Larry Storch, the nice words were all there, but the way Downs put them together made one feel that Storch was really just a second-rate bum.

Jim Backus and wife Henny were on the same night, and Jim, who usually is quite witty in these verbal catch-as-catch-cans, was left so limp by Downs' lack of reaction that he (Jim) wound up looking worse than an amateur on Jim's own "Talent Scouts" show.

Downs hardly ever laughs right out at anything, and even his chuckle is half-hearted. He reminds me of an uncle I once had who listened impatiently to some story you might try to regale him with, then he would say, "Yes, that's pretty funny, but let me tell you about the time I was surrounded by the Jerries at Chateau Thierry."

YOUNG JANE FONDA fell under Downs' wet blanket while Jim and his wife and Storch were gasping for air. He seems to have a great faculty for putting professional talent ill at ease.

Miss Fonda became so confused and dumbfounded that she frequently lapsed from her theatrically pronounced "cawn't" (can't) and "osk" (ask) to several just plain "yeah" replies.

She also was reduced to answering hoary questions like Downs' "has it helped or hindered your career to have a famous father?"

The only times Downs seemed to come to life were when he left his stunned guests and hopped center stage to pitch some nostrum for a sponsor.

DOWNS, I'M SURE, is totally unaware of these personality limitations, and my criticizing him for them reminds me of the famous story told about the late Al Jolson.

A New York newspaper critic consistently had panned Jolson's performances, and one day Jolson spotted this fellow on Broadway. Jolson grabbed him by the lapels and shouted, "Listen, boy, I made $100,000 last year—how much did you make?"

Well in Downs' case, I'm sure he must have made at least $200,000 last year, and all I can say is that he's one very lucky man. And he's not through yet—this fall he begins hosting NBC's "Today" show.

Liberalization Of Retirement Program Eyed

CHARLESTON (AP) — Trustees of the West Virginia Public Employes Retirement System expressed hope today the Legislature will liberalize the range of securities in which its funds may be invested.

An increase of 1 per cent in the interest earned by the fund would either increase retirement benefits by 20 per cent or would decrease the state's contribution by 34 per cent, the system's first annual report said.

Under present law, the system's money may be invested only in U.S. Treasury obligations or obligations of the state or its political subdivisions.

The retirement system became effective on July 1, 1961. All state employes, except those covered by other retirement systems, are members. Employes of political subdivisions and other governmental instrumentalities also are eligible if their governing bodies choose to join.

The first - year report also made these points:

—Employes of 50 counties, 32 municipalities, 38 boards of health and 15 other public corporations or instrumentalities were participants on or before last July 1.

—A total of 266 employes were retired on pension during the year.

Non-Union Workers On Space Center Jobs

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Jobs were manned at normal strength at the Marshall Space Flight Center Monday for the first time since Aug. 14 when about 150 electricians began a strike.

Members of the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers set up pickets protesting employment of non-union electricians by a subcontractor. About 1,200 members of other building trades unions honored the lines and several projects vital to the country's moonshot program were hampered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child In School Needs Regulations

Between now and the beginning of school there are some questions parents should ask themselves about each child of school age. How well does he take care of himself and his clothes and other belongings? Does he do for himself what he is able to do or is he waited on hand and foot by his parents or domestic helpers? How well does he respect the rights and possessions of all other members in the family and other persons of the neighborhood? How obedient is he to his parents and other persons substituting for them?

DOES HE HAVE some home chores he does faithfully and promptly without being told when to do them or without being told repeatedly until he does them, and without argument? Is he on hand at regular mealtime or do you have to "chase" all over the neighborhood to round him up for meals?

Do you know where your child of elementary school age is within any half hour of the day? Is he limited in the hours he may be out at night? Has he a reasonable and regular bedtime hour he must observe? If over five or six, has he been reading something besides comic books every day?

Is he trained in readiness to be home after dark and to go to his homework without radio or TV for a definite period each night before school?

The child who has not been trained to conform to a reasonable, regular program at an early age will not, by the time he receives homework in school, be ready to do it diligently.

PARENTS WITH school children will do well to aim, one of them at least, to be home each evening preceding a school day to see that a desirable program is adhered to. If they get this program going well during the first few weeks of school they might sometimes be absent later in the school year without very serious loss to the mental work habits of their children.

Usually parents don't consider these early weeks important, in which case their children don't. Any child who can, should read, and all older school children, whether they have homework or not, should be expected to do some mental work such as reading on the evening of each school day — this being as inescapable as is breathing.

While some school children are eager to do mental work each evening, most will not unless they know they must.

Unfortunately, most parents leave all such matters to the child to decide and assume he will be naturally motivated by the school to work hard and regularly at his books. Recaling how they themselves, as school children, tried to escape doing anything they had rather not do, parents should be vigilant and alert.

My bulletins, "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" and "Parents and the Child's Homework" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Cattle Judging Holds Stage Today At Ohio's State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cattle judging took the spotlight today as the 11-day Ohio State Fair moved into its second of three phases.

On top today were the 12th National Jersey Futurity, the 10th All-American Swiss Futurity and the Ohio Guernsey Futurity.

Monday, in the windup of the Junior Fair program, two youths picked up handsome checks for their prize-winning steers.

Gary Wagner of Greenville sold his grand champion steer, a 1,070-pound angus, to Del Matto's Restaurant of Columbus for $1.25 a pound. The reserve grand champion, a 915-pound Shorthorn-Angus crossed owned by David Ames of Wimington, was sold to the Herman Falter Packing Co. of Columbus for 56 cents a pound.

Also winding up Monday was comedian Red Skelton's four-day program at the grandstand. On the final afternoon show, more than 2,200 handicapped children from all over the state were guests of the house.

The warm, clear weather Monday brought 27,727 onto the grounds, better than 9,000 more than on the Monday of the 1961 exposition. The over - all total reached 140,422 paid admittances.

The day also proved a bit embarrassing for fair officials, who have been calling the 11-day run the longest in the event's 107-year history. The keen memory of 81-year-old Albert Planck of Columbus sent officials scurrying for the record books.

Planck said he had an exhibit in the 1901 fair which lasted 14 days. The history book proved him right.

Burglar Obtains Nothing In Entry At St. Clair Store

A burglar obtained only a box of canceled checks, which he later dumped outside, in an entry of a Maplewood pharmacy discovered Monday, police reported.

The entry was timed between 10:30 p.m. Sunday and 9 a.m. yesterday at Sevy's Drug Store, 2307 St. Clair Ave., operated by Keith Sevy of Maple Dr., Calcutta, police said.

The intruder carried out a box, but discovering that it contained only canceled checks, he abandoned it on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Zuda Mercer, 2307½ St. Clair Ave., police said. Nothing else was missing.

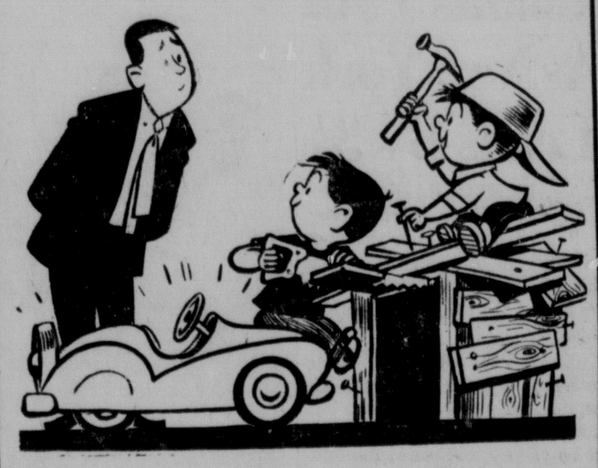

The burglary came to light when Mrs. Mercer found the box. Investigating, she found the canceled checks. The intruder had moved a metal filing cabinet from the rear of the store to a display window, police said. Unable to take the cabinet out through the window, he abandoned it there.

Officers said entry was gained by breaking a 14-x-14-inch window. Patrolman Orin C. Smith investigated.

DOWNS, I'M SURE, is totally unaware of these personality limitations, and my criticizing him for them reminds me of the famous story told about the late Al Jolson.

A New York newspaper critic consistently had panned Jolson's performances, and one day Jolson spotted this fellow on Broadway. Jolson grabbed him by the lapels and shouted, "Listen, boy, I made $100,000 last year—how much did you make?"

Well in Downs' case, I'm sure he must have made at least $200,000 last year, and all I can say is that he's one very lucky man. And he's not through yet—this fall he begins hosting NBC's "Today" show.

Liberalization Of Retirement Program Eyed

CHARLESTON (AP) — Trustees of the West Virginia Public Employes Retirement System expressed hope today the Legislature will liberalize the range of securities in which its funds may be invested.

An increase of 1 per cent in the interest earned by the fund would either increase retirement benefits by 20 per cent or would decrease the state's contribution by 34 per cent, the system's first annual report said.

Under present law, the system's money may be invested only in U.S. Treasury obligations or obligations of the state or its political subdivisions.

The retirement system became effective on July 1, 1961. All state employes, except those covered by other retirement systems, are members. Employes of political subdivisions and other governmental instrumentalities also are eligible if their governing bodies choose to join.

The first - year report also made these points:

—Employes of 50 counties, 32 municipalities, 38 boards of health and 15 other public corporations or instrumentalities were participants on or before last July 1.

—A total of 266 employes were retired on pension during the year.

Non-Union Workers On Space Center Jobs

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Jobs were manned at normal strength at the Marshall Space Flight Center Monday for the first time since Aug. 14 when about 150 electricians began a strike.

Members of the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers set up pickets protesting employment of non-union electricians by a subcontractor. About 1,200 members of other building trades unions honored the lines and several projects vital to the country's moonshot program were hampered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child In School Needs Regulations

Between now and the beginning of school there are some questions parents should ask themselves about each child of school age. How well does he take care of himself and his clothes and other belongings? Does he do for himself what he is able to do or is he waited on hand and foot by his parents or domestic helpers? How well does he respect the rights and possessions of all other members in the family and other persons of the neighborhood? How obedient is he to his parents and other persons substituting for them?

DOES HE HAVE some home chores he does faithfully and promptly without being told when to do them or without being told repeatedly until he does them, and without argument? Is he on hand at regular mealtime or do you have to "chase" all over the neighborhood to round him up for meals?

Do you know where your child of elementary school age is within any half hour of the day? Is he limited in the hours he may be out at night? Has he a reasonable and regular bedtime hour he must observe? If over five or six, has he been reading something besides comic books every day?

Is he trained in readiness to be home after dark and to go to his homework without radio or TV for a definite period each night before school?

The child who has not been trained to conform to a reasonable, regular program at an early age will not, by the time he receives homework in school, be ready to do it diligently.

PARENTS WITH school children will do well to aim, one of them at least, to be home each evening preceding a school day to see that a desirable program is adhered to. If they get this program going well during the first few weeks of school they might sometimes be absent later in the school year without very serious loss to the mental work habits of their children.

Usually parents don't consider these early weeks important, in which case their children don't. Any child who can, should read, and all older school children, whether they have homework or not, should be expected to do some mental work such as reading on the evening of each school day — this being as inescapable as is breathing.

While some school children are eager to do mental work each evening, most will not unless they know they must.

Unfortunately, most parents leave all such matters to the child to decide and assume he will be naturally motivated by the school to work hard and regularly at his books. Recaling how they themselves, as school children, tried to escape doing anything they had rather not do, parents should be vigilant and alert.

My bulletins, "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" and "Parents and the Child's Homework" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Cattle Judging Holds Stage Today At Ohio's State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cattle judging took the spotlight today as the 11-day Ohio State Fair moved into its second of three phases.

On top today were the 12th National Jersey Futurity, the 10th All-American Swiss Futurity and the Ohio Guernsey Futurity.

Monday, in the windup of the Junior Fair program, two youths picked up handsome checks for their prize-winning steers.

Gary Wagner of Greenville sold his grand champion steer, a 1,070-pound angus, to Del Matto's Restaurant of Columbus for $1.25 a pound. The reserve grand champion, a 915-pound Shorthorn-Angus crossed owned by David Ames of Wimington, was sold to the Herman Falter Packing Co. of Columbus for 56 cents a pound.

Also winding up Monday was comedian Red Skelton's four-day program at the grandstand. On the final afternoon show, more than 2,200 handicapped children from all over the state were guests of the house.

The warm, clear weather Monday brought 27,727 onto the grounds, better than 9,000 more than on the Monday of the 1961 exposition. The over - all total reached 140,422 paid admittances.

The day also proved a bit embarrassing for fair officials, who have been calling the 11-day run the longest in the event's 107-year history. The keen memory of 81-year-old Albert Planck of Columbus sent officials scurrying for the record books.

Planck said he had an exhibit in the 1901 fair which lasted 14 days. The history book proved him right.

Burglar Obtains Nothing In Entry At St. Clair Store

A burglar obtained only a box of canceled checks, which he later dumped outside, in an entry of a Maplewood pharmacy discovered Monday, police reported.

The entry was timed between 10:30 p.m. Sunday and 9 a.m. yesterday at Sevy's Drug Store, 2307 St. Clair Ave., operated by Keith Sevy of Maple Dr., Calcutta, police said.

The intruder carried out a box, but discovering that it contained only canceled checks, he abandoned it on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Zuda Mercer, 2307½ St. Clair Ave., police said. Nothing else was missing.

The burglary came to light when Mrs. Mercer found the box. Investigating, she found the canceled checks. The intruder had moved a metal filing cabinet from the rear of the store to a display window, police said. Unable to take the cabinet out through the window, he abandoned it there.

Officers said entry was gained by breaking a 14-x-14-inch window. Patrolman Orin C. Smith investigated.

Amedeo Short On Reserve Strength At Chester High

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Panthers Have Only 4 Lettermen

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

"We have a good starting unit, but after that the ranks are pretty thin," Dom Amedeo, Chester High's grid coach commented when summing up his 1962 squad.

Amedeo found only four lettermen on hand when he issued the first call for practice after losing 12 regulars from last season.

The Panther mentor, starting his eighth year, pointed out that outside of the four letter-winners the other candidates who are being considered for starting berths didn't see much action during the 1961 season.

Another letter-winner from last year, Pat Gill, who Amedeo considered his outstanding lineman, won't be available, having been ruled scholastically ineligible.

THE quartet of lettermen consists of three linemen and one back. The lone veteran in the backfield is Kelse Johnson, a 140-pound senior, who played an end most of last season but was converted to the quarterback spot for the last three games of the 1961 campaign. Johnson will be starting the season at this spot.

Amedeo has an experienced tackle in Carl Gillespie, a 180-pound junior, who broke into the varsity lineup as a freshman. This is his third year as a regular and he is considered a topnotch lineman by his coach.

Jim Oyster, a 155-pound junior, returns to his position at center, while John Williams, a 160-pound senior, won his spurs at a guard spot last season.

IN THE backfield, Amedeo is counting on Bob Myers and Gary Mayhew at the halfback spots. Both saw only limited action in 1961. Myers is a senior weighing 155, while Mayhew, a junior, goes 145.

Chuck Mullen is working at the fullpack spot. The 160-pound senior has been plagued by injuries through most of his athletic career at Chester. Last year he missed the football season because of knee injury.

Amedeo pointed out that some of his candidates may have to play more than one position, referring mainly to Walt Elliott, a 140-pound junior, who has been converted to an end but may be used at halfback and quarterback if necessary.

Ed Clunk, a 150-pound junior, Gary Davis, 145-pound sophomore, and Bob Pallard, 180-pound junior, are three other gridders shooting for a job at end.

WHILE Gillespie has one tackle spot sewed up, Bob Taylor, a bruising 210-pound senior, and Steve Harris, 165-pound junior, are battling for the other post.

The guard situation shows Williams, the veteran, at one position, while Dennis Spencer, 165-pound senior, and 200-pound junior Rich Goppert are vieing for the other starting spot.

Junior Jay Conkle, a 150-pounder who has shown steady improvement, is waging a fight with Oyster for the job at center.

Amedeo has five seniors on the squad, 15 juniors, eight sophomores and eight freshmen.

—:—

CHESTER will open its season at home Friday, Sept. 7, with a night game at City Park against United. The Panthers play only two away games this season, with eight at home.

Beginning his sixth season as Amedeo's assistant is Dick Bryan, who was a standout at Chester High and Marshal College.

The 1962 schedule follows:

Sept. 14 Malvern, Away
Sept. 21 South Side, Home
Sept. 28 Newell, Away
Oct. 5 Springfield Local, Home
Oct. 12 Follansbee, Home

Terry's 3-Hitter Ends Yanks' Losing Ways In 5-0 Win

Claims 19th As New York Leads By 3½

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ralph Terry, who five years ago climbed out of a ditch to resume his pitching career, reigns today as king of the hill in the American League.

Terry, 26, a right-hander, reached the top Monday night with a sparkling performance limiting Cleveland to three singles in a 5-0 victory that ended the first-place New York Yankees' longest losing streak in four years at six games.

It left Terry, the AL's most winning pitcher, only one triumph shy of the 20-victory circle, and propelled him another step upward in the long, hard climb that began on a bleak November night in 1958 when he fell asleep at the wheel of his car.

Terry's car shot into a ditch and rolled over four times.

Terry recalls, "They took me to Kansas City (he had been traded by the Yankees) where they found I had fractured my hip. I spent seven weeks in traction, lucky to be alive."

In 1959, Terry was traded back to the Yankees. A year later he compiled a 10-8 record, but threw the home run ball to Bill Mazeroski that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates the World Series. Last year he was 16-3, although sidelined for a time and lost his one series start against Cincinnati.

This year he has been healthy all season and has stepped in as Ralph Houk's big winner. The victory against the Indians was his third shutout, and his 12th complete game, bringing his record to 19-10.

The triumph boosted the Yankees league lead to 3½ games over second-place Los Angeles and third-place Minnesota, both idle.

In the only other games scheduled, Lu Clinton and Carl Yastrzemski powered Boston to a 7-4 decision over Detroit and Washington blanked Baltimore 7-0 behind Tom Cheney's four-hitter. There were no games scheduled in the National League.

Terry hurled perfect ball until Bubba Phillips singled in opening the sixth inning. A single by Tito Francona in the seventh and Al Luplow's infield single with two out in the ninth were the only other Indian hits. Terry faced only 30 batters, striking out nine while walking none.

Rookie left-hander Sam McDowell (2-6) took the loss. He gave up two runs in the second inning, when Mickey Mantle doubled for the first of his four hits and Tom Tresh and Elston Howard walked.

Clinton hit his seventh homer in 13 days and added a double and single for three runs batted in while Yastrzemski was 3-for-3 with a double and two singles, scoring three times and knocking in two runs for the Red Sox.

Billy Bruton and Al Kaline tagged winner Gene Conley (13-11) for consecutive homers in the first inning and Kaline's single in the seventh accounted for the other 6).

Cincy, LA Open Big Set Tonight

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Walt Alston, manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers and as such a knowledgeable observer of the National League scene, views it this way:

"I can't see any club running away with the pennant. Frankly, I don't think it will be decided until the last week of the season."

Could be. But there might be an interesting development or two to follow between now and the late September stretch. For example, that three-game series opening tonight at Los Angeles between the front-running Dodgers and Cincinnati's resurgent Reds.

Tonight's opener is the first shot in a 10-day scrimmage involving the league's big three—Los Angeles, runner-up San Francisco and third-place Cincinnati.

After the set at Dodger Stadium the Reds travel north for three games against the Giants and after that is a four-game scramble between the Giants and Dodgers at Los Angeles. The only remaining action among the top three is a two-game Reds-Giants series at Cincinnati Sept. 12-13.

There were no National League clubs playing Monday but there were three night games in the American League.

The Reds, surprise winners of the pennant last season and just as surprising this year with their recent three-week upward zoom, saw that climb stalled—at least temporarily — by Sunday's twin loss to Houston. But by winning 18 of their last 23 starts, they've gained plenty of ground—from 10 games back of the Dodgers to 4½ behind.

In between are the Giants, 2½ back of Los Angeles. They are back in friendly Candlestick Park after a road trip that was nearly disastrous, but which turned out even at 6-6 with four straight victories at the end.

The Giants start a three-game series against Milwaukee tonight, sending Juan Marichal (16-9) against the Braves' Bob Shaw (15-8).

A wealth of pitching talent will be on display in the three-night Dodgers-Reds show, including the major leagues' three 20-game winners. Cincinnati will start Bob Purkey (20-4), Joey Jay (20-10) and Jim O'Toole (13-13) while the Dodgers will counter with Johnny Podres (10-10), Don Drysdale (22-6) and Stan Williams (12-8).

Havlicek Signed By Boston Celts

BOSTON, Aug. 27 (AP) — The world champion Boston Celtics today signed their draft choice, John Havlicek, to a one-year contract.

The Celtics, winners of four straight National Basketball Association titles, did not disclose the exact amount, estimated at $10,000.

Recently cut by the Cleveland Browns after a National Football League tryout, Havlicek, the defensive star from Ohio State, said "I'm confident I can make the Celtics though I know it will be tough. I think the club believes I can do the job or they wouldn't have drafted me."

The 6-foot-5, 200 pounder, is tentatively listed as a cornerman but Coach Red Auerbach is keeping an open mind as to position.

"I think John can be a Frank Ramsey type who can play up or in the backcourt," Auerbach said.

"After my futile efforts in football, I can concentrate on basketball," Havlicek said.

"All I had to try to beat out among the Browns pass receivers were veterans Ray Renfro and Hopalong Cassady and the No. 1 draft choices of the past three years — Rich Krietling, Bobby Crespino and Jack Collins."

Havlicek was reminded the quartet of cornermen he has to compete with on the Celtics includes club scorer Tommy Heinsohn, handyman Ramsey, policeman Jim Loscutoff and the rapidly - improving Tom Sanders.

"I'm very pleased to be with the Celtics and hope I can help them to another championship," Havlicek said. "I consider them the Yankees of basketball."

Players In NBA Hope Lucas Goes To Rival Loop

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Nothing personal, says Hub Reed, but National Basketball Association players hope Jerry Lucas winds up in the rival American Basketball League.

Reed, a former Oklahoma City University star now playing with the Cincinnati Royals, told an OCU Booster Club meeting Monday night NBA fans and team managements want Lucas in their league—but the players don't.

"We wanted him in the other league, hoping he would be enough to keep the league going," explained Reed. "When we get through in the NBA maybe we could hook on for a couple of years with a team in the ABL, if it's still in business."

Lucas, an All-America for Ohio State, was the Royals' first draft choice. He elected to sign with Cleveland of the ABL.

Plum's Passing Carries Lions To 26-20 Victory

By The Associated Press

Given the chance to prove his point, quarterback Milt Plum is doing just that these days for his new club, the Detroit Lions.

Acquired by the National Football League club in a multi-player deal with the Cleveland Browns, Plum expressed great satisfaction at escaping the I-call-the-plays system employed by Cleveland coach Paul Brown.

Plum always contended that a quarterback should be allowed to run the team on his own and in Cleveland that's just not the way it's done. After five years Plum began complaining out loud and before he knew it, he was wearing a Lions' jersey.

Detroit coach George Wilson promised the ex-Penn State star complete control of the club while he was on the field. Monday night Plum not only was in control of the Lions but he ran the Pittsburgh Steelers too—right off the field.

With the Detroit offense stumbling and his club trailing 7-0 in the second period, Wilson put in Plum. The ex-Brown peppered the Steeler defense with passes, completing 15 of 18, including two touchdowns, as Detroit came from behind for a 26-20 victory.

That gave Plum 27 completions in 44 attempts in Detroit's first three exhibitions, and that kind of figures could make NFL Western Division coaches wish Plum had never left Cleveland.

Today was cutdown day in both American and National Leagues, with NFL teams forced to reduce their rosters to 43 men and AFL clubs to 38. Most clubs had already reached the cutdown figures but two teams, Buffalo in the AFL and Minnesota in the NFL, were active in the player market.

The Bills asked waivers on guard Jim La Compte, their seventh draft choice from North Carolina, and linebacker Don Caraway, who had been signed as a free agent. Buffalo also signed Marv Matuszak, a linebacker recently released by the Baltimore Colts.

The Vikings returned tackle Dale Memmelaar to the St. Louis Cardinals, nullifying an earlier trade that sent a 1963 draft choice to the Cards. Minnesota also got Ted Stute, a rookie tackle, from the Cleveland Browns.

McComas Wins Caddy Tournament At Club

Carl McComas fired a 46-43-89 to win the annual caddy tournament Monday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Phil Stewart and Bob Hargraves finished second with 96's.

In the second division, Rick Hughes shot a 50-48-98 to win honors. John Weaver was second with 100 and Dan Van Meter fired a 108.

The Cosmo League will meet Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the Friendly Bowling Lanes to organize for the fall. Team captains are requested to be present.

McNutt Captures Golfing Contest At Country Club

Southpaw Bill McNutt registered 25 points to win Sunday's par birdie eagle contest at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Art Lynch was runnerup with 23 while Don Burbick, Dr. J. J. Laneve and J. T. Hall tied with 21 each.

Saturday's selective nine hole event was won by Jim Jordan who totaled 25. Dick Crable was second with 29, L. W. Smith Jr., J. T. Hall and R. T. McDaniel finished with 30 each.

Amedeo Short On Reserve Strength At Chester High

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Panthers Have Only 4 Lettermen

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

"We have a good starting unit, but after that the ranks are pretty thin," Dom Amedeo, Chester High's grid coach commented when summing up his 1962 squad.

Amedeo found only four lettermen on hand when he issued the first call for practice after losing 12 regulars from last season.

The Panther mentor, starting his eighth year, pointed out that outside of the four letter-winners the other candidates who are being considered for starting berths didn't see much action during the 1961 season.

Another letter-winner from last year, Pat Gill, who Amedeo considered his outstanding lineman, won't be available, having been ruled scholastically ineligible.

THE quartet of lettermen consists of three linemen and one back. The lone veteran in the backfield is Kelse Johnson, a 140-pound senior, who played an end most of last season but was converted to the quarterback spot for the last three games of the 1961 campaign. Johnson will be starting the season at this spot.

Amedeo has an experienced tackle in Carl Gillespie, a 180-pound junior, who broke into the varsity lineup as a freshman. This is his third year as a regular and he is considered a topnotch lineman by his coach.

Jim Oyster, a 155-pound junior, returns to his position at center, while John Williams, a 160-pound senior, won his spurs at a guard spot last season.

IN THE backfield, Amedeo is counting on Bob Myers and Gary Mayhew at the halfback spots. Both saw only limited action in 1961. Myers is a senior weighing 155, while Mayhew, a junior, goes 145.

Chuck Mullen is working at the fullpack spot. The 160-pound senior has been plagued by injuries through most of his athletic career at Chester. Last year he missed the football season because of knee injury.

Amedeo pointed out that some of his candidates may have to play more than one position, referring mainly to Walt Elliott, a 140-pound junior, who has been converted to an end but may be used at halfback and quarterback if necessary.

Ed Clunk, a 150-pound junior, Gary Davis, 145-pound sophomore, and Bob Pallard, 180-pound junior, are three other gridders shooting for a job at end.

WHILE Gillespie has one tackle spot sewed up, Bob Taylor, a bruising 210-pound senior, and Steve Harris, 165-pound junior, are battling for the other post.

The guard situation shows Williams, the veteran, at one position, while Dennis Spencer, 165-pound senior, and 200-pound junior Rich Goppert are vieing for the other starting spot.

Junior Jay Conkle, a 150-pounder who has shown steady improvement, is waging a fight with Oyster for the job at center.

Amedeo has five seniors on the squad, 15 juniors, eight sophomores and eight freshmen.

—:—

CHESTER will open its season at home Friday, Sept. 7, with a night game at City Park against United. The Panthers play only two away games this season, with eight at home.

Beginning his sixth season as Amedeo's assistant is Dick Bryan, who was a standout at Chester High and Marshal College.

The 1962 schedule follows:

Sept. 7	United,	Home
Sept. 14	Malvern,	Away
Sept. 21	South Side,	Home
Sept. 28	Newell,	Away
Oct. 5	Springfield Local,	Home

Terry's 3-Hitter Ends Yanks' Losing Ways In 5-0 Win

Claims 19th As New York Leads By 3½

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ralph Terry, who five years ago climbed out of a ditch to resume his pitching career, reigns today as king of the hill in the American League.

Terry, 26, a right-hander, reached the top Monday night with a sparkling performance limiting Cleveland to three singles in a 5-0 victory that ended the first-place New York Yankees' longest losing streak in four years at six games.

It left Terry, the AL's most winning pitcher, only one triumph shy of the 20-victory circle, and propelled him another step upward in the long, hard climb that began on a bleak November night in 1958 when he fell asleep at the wheel of his car.

Terry's car shot into a ditch and rolled over four times.

Terry recalls, "They took me to Kansas City (he had been traded by the Yankees) where they found I had fractured my hip. I spent seven weeks in traction, lucky to be alive."

In 1959, Terry was traded back to the Yankees. A year later he compiled a 10-8 record, but threw the home run ball to Bill Mazeroski that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates the World Series. Last year he was 16-3, although sidelined for a time and lost his one series start against Cincinnati.

This year he has been healthy all season and has stepped in as Ralph Houk's big winner. The victory against the Indians was his third shutout, and his 12th complete game, bringing his record to 19-10.

The triumph boosted the Yankees league lead to 3½ games over second-place Los Angeles and third-place Minnesota, both idle.

In the only other games scheduled, Lu Clinton and Carl Yastrzemski powered Boston to a 7-4 decision over Detroit and Washington blanked Baltimore 7-0 behind Tom Cheney's four-hitter. There were no games scheduled in the National League.

Terry hurled perfect ball until Bubba Phillips singled in opening the sixth inning. A single by Tito Francona in the seventh and Al Luplow's infield single with two out in the ninth were the only other Indian hits. Terry faced only 30 batters, striking out nine while walking none.

Rookie left-hander Sam McDowell (2-6) took the loss. He gave up two runs in the second inning, when Mickey Mantle doubled for the first of his four hits and Tom Tresh and Elston Howard walked.

Clinton hit his seventh homer in 13 days and added a double and single for three runs batted in while Yastrzemski was 3-for-3 with a double and two singles, scoring three times and knocking in two runs for the Red Sox.

Billy Bruton and Al Kaline tagged winner Gene Conley (13-11) for consecutive homers in the first inning and Kaline's single in the seventh accounted for the other 6).

Cincy, LA Open Big Set Tonight

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Walt Alston, manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers and as such a knowledgeable observer of the National League scene, views it this way:

"I can't see any club running away with the pennant. Frankly, I don't think it will be decided until the last week of the season."

Could be. But there might be an interesting development or two to follow between now and the late September stretch. For example, that three-game series opening tonight at Los Angeles between the front-running Dodgers and Cincinnati's resurgent Reds.

Tonight's opener is the first shot in a 10-day scrimmage involving the league's big three—Los Angeles, runner-up San Francisco and third-place Cincinnati.

After the set at Dodger Stadium the Reds travel north for three games against the Giants and after that is a four-game scramble between the Giants and Dodgers at Los Angeles. The only remaining action among the top three is a two-game Reds-Giants series at Cincinnati Sept. 12-13.

Laver Heavy Favorite In National Net Play

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The National Tennis championships get under way on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club Wednesday, and for all intents and purposes it will be Rod Laver against the field.

The red-thatched Australian lefthander has been cutting a wide swath all over Europe and Australia this year and has won just about everything but his rivals' rackets.

At last count, he had won nine titles, including the big three—Australia, France and Wimbledon. If he can win the United States championship—and he certainly is the heavy favorite—he will be the only other player besides Don Budge to capture the four top tournaments. Budge accomplished the feat in 1938.

Laver, of course, is seeded No. 1. Who might make it tough for him? Well, there's his Davis Cup teammate and defending champion, Roy Emerson, who is seeded No. 2. Emerson whipped him in the 1961 final.

The United States contingent is headed by Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., who blows hot and cold. He is No. 3, one of the two U.S. players seeded. The other is Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., No. 8.

Behind McKinley comes Rafael Osuna of the Mexican Davis Cup team that squashed the United States in the American zone final.

The women's division, too, is headed by an Aussie. Margaret Smith is No. 1, followed by Karen Hantze Susman of San Diego, Calif. Then there is Maria Bueno of Brazil, Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia, defending champion Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., Rene Shuurman of South Africa, Leslie Turner of Australia and Sandra Reynolds Price of South Africa.

Miss Hard is the No. 1 player in the United States, but she has not had a good year. However, compared to Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., the No. 1 ranked men's player in the country, she has been clobbered so much in early rounds of tournaments, he wasn't even seeded.

This probably will be the most international of all 82 U.S. championships. Players from 30-odd nations will play.

Double T. Is Longest Shot In Hambletonian

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Seldom since the Hambletonian was inaugurated has a horse created such a stir as Dubble T. for Wednesday's 37th chapter of the trotting classic for 3-year olds.

Not knowing anything about the bay colt, railbirds have established him an unofficial 50-1 shot in the field of 15 for the $116,612 Kentucky Derby of harness racing on Du Quoin Fairgrounds fast mile oval, where parimutuel wagering is prohibited. The winner's share is $62,854.

Even these odds are considerably short for perhaps the greatest longshot ever to get into a Hambletonian field.

The record speaks for itself for such elite trotters as A. C.'s Viking, Impish, Spry Rodney, Sprite Rodney, Safe Mission, Worth Seein, Nathaniel and Isaac. Dubble T. is looked upon as a hayseed in such company.

Dubble T., an average-sized colt, has never before been outside Indiana, where he is trained and owned by Jesse Blessing of Windfall and Harold Tyner of Tipton. Campaigning strictly in Hoosierland, Dubble T. in two years earned $3,692, winning 11 out of 26 starts. This season his winnings are $1,687 with six firsts in 14 trips.

Sustained eligibility payments and a $1,500 starting fee totals up to the $1,960 it is costing the owners to get Dubble T. into the Hambletonian.

His best competitive time was 2:10 3-5 in his last outing at Connersville for his fourth straight victory. The Hambletonian record is 1:58 3-5 by Harlan Dean last year.

Dubble T., whose claim to fame is winning the 3-year-old title of the Indiana circuit, never has raced over a mile track this year, although he trained at Indianapolis Aug. 18, in 2:05. He is an offspring of Prince Victor-Doll T., and the bloodline makes him a half-brother to Tanker T. the Indiana horse of the year in 1959.

He also will be driven for the first time by Jerry Landess of Portland, Ind., a 32-year-old campaigner on the Indiana and Ohio circuits who had only 16 winners last year in 150 drives.

"We think Dubble T. is a nice colt and if we want to put up our money and take our chances, its our business," says Blessing.

"Around here Dubble T. may not mean too much, but around Shelbyville, Connersville and other Indiana towns, he needs no introduction. On the track—and this will be the best one he has ever been on—he can leave or come home."

This means he can get away fast and close strongly. This especially should interest Del Miller, winning driver with Lusty Song in 1950 who will pilot one of the favorites, Spry Rodney. In the blind draw for post positions, Spry got No. 12. Dubble T. got the choice No. 2 spot and will be right in front of Spry in the tiering of the start.

Laver Heavy Favorite In National Net Play

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The National Tennis championships get under way on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club Wednesday, and for all intents and purposes it will be Rod Laver against the field.

The red-thatched Australian lefthander has been cutting a wide swath all over Europe and Australia this year and has won just about everything but his rivals' rackets.

At last count, he had won nine titles, including the big three—Australia, France and Wimbledon. If he can win the United States championship—and he certainly is the heavy favorite—he will be the only other player besides Don Budge to capture the four top tournaments. Budge accomplished the feat in 1938.

Laver, of course, is seeded No. 1. Who might make it tough for him? Well, there's his Davis Cup teammate and defending champion, Roy Emerson, who is seeded No. 2. Emerson whipped him in the 1961 final.

The United States contingent is headed by Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., who blows hot and cold. He is No. 3, one of the two U.S. players seeded. The other is Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., No. 8.

Behind McKinley comes Rafael Osuna of the Mexican Davis Cup team that squashed the United States in the American zone final.

The women's division, too, is headed by an Aussie. Margaret Smith is No. 1, followed by Karen Hantze Susman of San Diego, Calif. Then there is Maria Bueno of Brazil, Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia, defending champion Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., Rene Shuurman of South Africa, Leslie Turner of Australia and Sandra Reynolds Price of South Africa.

Miss Hard is the No. 1 player in the United States, but she has not had a good year. However, compared to Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., the No. 1 ranked men's player in the country, she has been doing great. He has been clobbered so much in early rounds of tournaments, he wasn't even seeded.

This probably will be the most international of all 82 U.S. championships. Players from 30-odd nations will play.

Double T. Is Longest Shot In Hambletonian

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Seldom since the Hambletonian was inaugurated has a horse created such a stir as Dubble T. for Wednesday's 37th chapter of the trotting classic for 3-year olds.

Not knowing anything about the bay colt, railbirds have established him an unofficial 50-1 shot in the field of 15 for the $116,612 Kentucky Derby of harness racing on Du Quoin Fairgrounds fast mile oval, where parimutuel wagering is prohibited. The winner's share is $62,854.

Even these odds are considerably short for perhaps the greatest longshot ever to get into a Hambletonian field.

The record speaks for itself for such elite trotters as A. C.'s Viking, Impish, Spry Rodney, Sprite Rodney, Safe Mission, Worth Seein, Nathaniel and Isaac. Dubble T. is looked upon as a hayseed in such company.

Dubble T., an average-sized colt, has never before been outside Indiana, where he is trained and owned by Jesse Blessing of Windfall and Harold Tyner of Tipton. Campaigning strictly in Hoosierland, Dubble T. in two years earned $3,692, winning 11 out of 26 starts. This season his winnings are $1,687 with six firsts in 14 trips.

Sustained eligibility payments and a $1,500 starting fee totals up to the $1,960 it is costing the owners to get Dubble T. into the Hambletonian.

His best competitive time was 2:10 3-5 in his last outing at Connersville for his fourth straight victory. The Hambletonian record is 1:58 3-5 by Harlan Dean last year.

Group Seeks Street Work

A petition from residents of Samuel St. in the Substation area to have the street opened further north on its right-of-way was received by the St. Clair Township trustees at a meeting Monday night.

The petition, bearing 18 signatures, will be discussed by the trustees at a meeting with county commissioners. Harold Williams, chairman, explained the township lacks equipment for road construction.

In other action, the trustees agreed to affiliate with the proposed new Columbiana County Civil Defense for which a meeting is planned Sept. 6 at Lisbon.

A request for opening of a ditch on Poplar St. in the Route 170 area was received.

The trustees will meet Tuesday night instead of the regular Monday session because of Labor Day.

Pennsylvania Town Gets Whitewashing

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (AP) — The town of Tharptown got an unexpected whitewash Monday due to a highway employe who meant only to paint a new divider line along Route 122.

A hose connected to an automatic line painter sprang a leak as the unidentified worker drove through the center of town.

Quick-drying white paint gushed from a 200-gallon pressurized tank onto the road, sidewalks, fences, lawns, flowers, hedges, cars and trucks.

Police said the worker traveled at least two miles—almost the entire length of Tharptown—before honking automobile horns alerted him something was wrong.

Killed In Wreck

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—A tractor-trailer smashed broadside into an automobile at an intersection here Monday, killing the car's driver, John A. Lewis, 59, of Ravenna. Lewis' wife and two children were injured.

SOUTH SIDE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL Charles P. Henderson looks on as work progresses for the foundation of a new 10-classroom addition at the rear of the building. Work is also under way on an addition to the cafeteria, the shop and shower rooms. There also will be a new sewage disposal plant and other remodeling. Work on the $506,027 project began July 16 and is expected to be completed next year at this time. The Brand Construction Corp. of Pittsburgh is the general contractor. The various contracts were signed July 10 at the State Public School Building Authority in Harrisburg. Victor F. Thomas Jr. is supervising principal for the high and elementary schools which students attend from Georgtown, Hookstown, Shippingport, Greene and Hanover Townships and Frankfort Springs. Harvey Todd is president of the Southern Beaver County Joint Board of Education.

Newell Truck Bids Sought

A committee was instructed to receive bids for purchase of a new light pumper truck when Newell volunteer firemen met Monday night in the station.

Don Foltz, chief, and Dick Rayburn and Earl Flesch, firemen, will receive bids for the vehicle, which will be used mainly to answer alarms in the rural district.

Firemen said a light pumper truck would be speedier and better adapted to traveling in outlying areas than the department's heavy pumper.

Chief Foltz conducted training on the use of Scott Air-Paks, breathing devices used in fighting fires. He also explained the operation of a resuscitator.

A special practice session was scheduled for Sept. 5 at 6:30 p. m. in the station.

Charles Lee, president, conducted business. Lunch was served by David Jester and Floyd Wilson.

Next meeting is Sept. 10.

Driver Avoids Crash Injury

A city man escaped injury Monday when his truck was struck by an auto on the Y. & O. Rd., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Donald Hancock, 36, of 1828 Michigan Ave. was headed east and making a left turn on the highway about a mile south west of Route 30 when a sedan operated by Peter Kurylak, 62, of Youngstown hit the truck as the autoist attempted to pass, officers said.

The mishap was timed at 7:05 p.m.

William Lee McMillen, 28, of North Benton R.D. was cited for leaving the scene of an accident after his auto collided with a Salem man's car on County Rd. 400 about four miles southwest of Salem at 8:40 p.m.

Officers said McMillen rounded a curve left of center and hit an approaching car driven by James Mark Cross, 23, of Salem. No one was injured.

Bycroft said September distribution dates will be announced in a few days.

$75,000 Suit Cites Pop Bottle Explosion

LISBON — Flay's Beverage Co. of East Palestine is the defendant in a $75,000 suit over an injury allegedly resulting from an exploding pop bottle.

Paul Bergida of Canton said the bottle exploded Aug. 26, 1960, while he and his wife were storing soft drinks in a refrigerator at a synagogue, where he is custodian.

He claims a piece of glass cut his eyeball and destroyed vision in his right eye. The plaintiff filed the case Monday in Common Pleas Court.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When I sew and cut a new pattern I pin the material to the bare mattress and put the pattern on top of it. The pins will stick to the mattress very satisfactorily. I find that I can cut the material easier this way. I have more space to fit the entire pattern and move my material, and can cut more at one time. And by removing all the bedclothing, I don't cut the bedspread!

I pin crocheted pieces to the mattress to dry on the days that they are laundered instead of ironing them. I put pieces of plastic under the crocheted item that has been washed.

MRS. T. CHAUBEAUX

Plaster Patched

DEAR HELOISE: When white plaster walls have small holes made from hanging pictures, and you don't have to time to order crack-filler. . . just put a white, powdered kitchen cleaner in a small bow and mix it to a thick consistency with white shoe polish. Fill the hole with this mixture and smooth it.

When the mixture dries, the hole cannot be detected.

MARGERY E. ANDERSON

Hey, Pop!

DEAR HELOISE: The bane of my existence is that my children hold the refrigerator door open to get a drink of ice water. My solution is:

I fill six or eight soda-pop bottles with water each morning and put them in our refrigerator and let them get real cold. Thirsty children open the refrigerator door once now, grab their bottle and away they go! No dirty glasses, cups or bother for tired mother.

My children are delighted with this arrangement and it has saved my disposition too.

MRS. C. CHABROW

Marks Vanish

DEAR HELOISE: To remove heat and moisture marks, spots and rings from table tops, dip a damp cloth in cigar ashes (I found that cigarette ashes just wouldn't do) and rub the spot.

Wipe with another clean cloth that has been slightly dampened and then a dry one. The spot will be gone! Wax or polish as usual.

This does take a little elbow grease but I think it is worth it.

MRS. E. K. MOORE

-:-

I just tried this and it works!

HELOISE

Prescription

DEAR HELOISE: Being a man alone, I get many helpful hints from your department.

Sometime ago, you wrote about mosquitoes breeding in ivy plants around the house. In my own case, I have no water plants, but do get mosquitoes at intervals.

I found that my mosquitoes breed in my recirculation cooler. When they do appear, I drain the cooler and this eliminates the mosquitoes until I forgot to drain it again!

A fresh water tank could be an ideal place for the breeding of these pets. The draining of the cooler from time to time will eliminate the breeding.

Another use for the paraffin cartons in which milk comes in is to cut them up and save them for starting charcoal fires!

ALBERT E. RUSSELL, M.D.

Beef Production Falls Off; Prices Climb Over Year Ago

With production of dressed beef running a little below the 1961 level, retail prices for beef are higher than a year ago and probably will continue that way through the summer, according to Richard W. Skinner, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Retail prices on the better steaks, from the loin and rib, will be higher than usual in relation to other cuts. Best bets for economy and for retail specials still appears to be the roasts and steaks from the round and chuck.

Pork prices continue seasonally high, especially on fresh loin cuts. Wholesale prices on loins are the highest in nearly two years. Prospects are for relatively high prices on loin chops, spareribs and bacon until volume marketing of the 1962 spring pig crops get under way this fall.

As a rule, the cold months are the best time to buy meat at low prices. Also, generally speaking, the high - priced cuts will change in price more frequently than low-priced cuts.

Egg prices have risen from the low levels of May and June, but still are not above last year's average price level for August. Be sure to compare the price spread between the sizes. If the spread is more than eight cents between sizes, the smaller size will be the better buy.

Turkey supplies are greater than at this time last year. This plus the fact that the slaughter of new crop turkeys is beginning, increases the likelihood of retail specials. From all indications this year's turkey crop will be the second largest of record.

Broilers should continue to be featured regularly for less than 30 cents a pound. From all indications at this time, broilers will not be as low in price this winter as they have been for the last 18 months.

The peach season is moving along very rapidly. Harvest is under way on Sullivan's Elberta and Hale Haven. Next on the market will be Shippers Late Red, Belle of Georgia and Elberta. All are suited for canning but the Hale Haven is recommended for freezing. You may still be able to find some if you check with your favorite grower or market operator soon.

Sweet corn and tomatoes still are the big news at area produce counters. Both are in good supply and low priced.

Other fruits becoming plentiful are apples, melons, plums, pears and grapes.

Backs Levy For Jail

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The Butler County Bar Association is backing a proposed 1-mill levy to replace the 114-year-old jail and expand court space. Judge Fred Cramer of common pleas court said Monday, "This is needed and we must make every effort to obtain it."

Fireplug Hit, Causes Salineville 'Drought'

SALINEVILLE — Police continued today to seek the driver of a truck which broke off a fire hydrant on Foundry Hill Rd. early Monday morning, causing a water shortage to a large number of East End homes for several hours.

Police Chief Roy Lewis said the breakage occurred between 2:30 and 5:15 a. m. when he received a telephone call from an unidentified person reporting the hydrant broken.

Crews replaced the hydrant yesterday while water was shut off to the eastern part of the town. Chief Lewis said tire marks and the nature of the damage indicated a truck was involved.

Pennsylvania Town Gets Whitewashing

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (AP) — The town of Tharptown got an unexpected whitewash Monday due to a highway employe who meant only to paint a new divider line along Route 122.

A hose connected to an automatic line painter sprang a leak as the unidentified worker drove through the center of town.

Quick-drying white paint gushed from a 200-gallon pressurized tank onto the road, sidewalks, fences, lawns, flowers, hedges, cars and trucks.

Police said the worker traveled at least two miles—almost the entire length of Tharptown—before honking automobile horns alerted him something was wrong.

Killed In Wreck

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—A tractor-trailer smashed broadside into an automobile at an intersection here Monday, killing the car's driver, John A. Lewis, 59, of Ravenna. Lewis' wife and two children were injured.

SOUTH SIDE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL Charles P. Henderson looks on as work progresses for the foundation of a new 10-classroom addition at the rear of the building. Work is also under way on an addition to the cafeteria, the shop and shower rooms. There also will be a new sewage disposal plant and other remodeling. Work on the $506,027 project began July 16 and is expected to be completed next year at this time. The Brand Construction Corp. of Pittsburgh is the general contractor. The various contracts were signed July 10 at the State Public School Building Authority in Harrisburg. Victor F. Thomas Jr. is supervising principal for the high and elementary schools which students attend from Georgtown, Hookstown, Shippingport, Greene and Hanover Townships and Frankfort Springs. Harvey Todd is president of the Southern Beaver County Joint Board of Education.

Newell Truck Bids Sought

A committee was instructed to receive bids for purchase of a new light pumper truck when Newell volunteer firemen met Monday night in the station.

Don Foltz, chief, and Dick Rayburn and Earl Flesch, firemen, will receive bids for the vehicle, which will be used mainly to answer alarms in the rural district.

Firemen said a light pumper truck would be speedier and better adapted to traveling in outlying areas than the department's heavy pumper.

Chief Foltz conducted training on the use of Scott Air-Paks, breathing devices used in fighting fires. He also explained the operation of a resuscitator.

A special practice session was scheduled for Sept. 5 at 6:30 p. m. in the station.

Charles Lee, president, conducted business. Lunch was served by David Jester and Floyd Wilson.

Next meeting is Sept. 10.

Driver Avoids Crash Injury

A city man escaped injury Monday when his truck was struck by an auto on the Y. & O. Rd., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Donald Hancock, 36, of 1828 Michigan Ave. was headed east and making a left turn on the highway about a mile south west of Route 30 when a sedan operated by Peter Kurylak, 62, of Youngstown hit the truck as the autoist attempted to pass, officers said.

The mishap was timed at 7:05 p.m.

William Lee McMillen, 28, of North Benton R.D. was cited for leaving the scene of an accident after his auto collided with a Salem man's car on County Rd. 400 about four miles southwest of Salem at 8:40 p.m.

Officers said McMillen rounded a curve left of center and hit an approaching car driven by James Mark Cross, 23, of Salem. No one was injured.

$75,000 Suit Cites Pop Bottle Explosion

LISBON — Flay's Beverage Co. of East Palestine is the defendant in a $75,000 suit over an injury allegedly resulting from an exploding pop bottle.

Paul Bergida of Canton said the bottle exploded Aug. 26, 1960, while he and his wife were storing soft drinks in a refrigerator at a synagogue, where he is custodian.

He claims a piece of glass cut his eyeball and destroyed vision in his right eye. The plaintiff filed the case Monday in Common Pleas Court.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When I sew and cut a new pattern I pin the material to the bare mattress and put the pattern on top of it. The pins will stick to the mattress very satisfactorily. I find that I can cut the material easier this way. I have more space to fit the entire pattern and move my material, and can cut more at one time. And by removing all the bedclothing, I don't cut the bedspread!

I pin crocheted pieces to the mattress to dry on the days that they are laundered instead of ironing them. I put pieces of plastic under the crocheted item that has been washed.

MRS. T. CHAUBEAUX

Plaster Patched

DEAR HELOISE: When white plaster walls have small holes made from hanging pictures, and you don't have to time to order crack-filler. . . just put a white, powdered kitchen cleaner in a small bow and mix it to a thick consistency with white shoe polish. Fill the hole with this mixture and smooth it.

When the mixture dries, the hole cannot be detected.

MARGERY E. ANDERSON

Hey, Pop!

DEAR HELOISE: The bane of my existence is that my children hold the refrigerator door open to get a drink of ice water. My solution is:

I fill six or eight soda-pop bottles with water each morning and put them in our refrigerator and let them get real cold. Thirsty children open the refrigerator door once now, grab their bottle and away they go! No dirty glasses, cups or bother for tired mother.

My children are delighted with this arrangement and it has saved my disposition too.

MRS. C. CHABROW

Marks Vanish

DEAR HELOISE: To remove heat and moisture marks, spots and rings from table tops, dip a damp cloth in cigar ashes (I found that cigarette ashes just wouldn't do) and rub the spot.

Wipe with another clean cloth that has been slightly dampened and then a dry one. The spot will be gone! Wax or polish as usual.

This does take a little elbow grease but I think it is worth it.

MRS. E. K. MOORE

-:-

I just tried this and it works!

HELOISE

Prescription

DEAR HELOISE: Being a man alone, I get many helpful hints from your department.

Sometime ago, you wrote about mosquitoes breeding in ivy plants around the house. In my own case, I have no water plants, but do get mosquitoes at intervals.

I found that my mosquitoes breed in my recirculation cooler. When they do appear, I drain the cooler and this eliminates the mosquitoes until I forgot to drain it again!

A fresh water tank could be an ideal place for the breeding of these pets. The draining of the cooler from time to time will eliminate the breeding.

Another use for the paraffin cartons in which milk comes in is to cut them up and save them for starting charcoal fires!

Beef Production Falls Off; Prices Climb Over Year Ago

With production of dressed beef running a little below the 1961 level, retail prices for beef are higher than a year ago and probably will continue that way through the summer, according to Richard W. Skinner, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Retail prices on the better steaks, from the loin and rib, will be higher than usual in relation to other cuts. Best bets for economy and for retail specials still appears to be the roasts and steaks from the round and chuck.

Pork prices continue seasonally high, especially on fresh loin cuts. Wholesale prices on loins are the highest in nearly two years. Prospects are for relatively high prices on loin chops, spareribs and bacon until volume marketing of the 1962 spring pig crops get under way this fall.

As a rule, the cold months are the best time to buy meat at low prices. Also, generally speaking, the high - priced cuts will change in price more frequently than low-priced cuts.

Egg prices have risen from the low levels of May and June, but still are not above last year's average price level for August. Be sure to compare the price spread between the sizes. If the spread is more than eight cents between sizes, the smaller size will be the better buy.

Turkey supplies are greater than at this time last year. This plus the fact that the slaughter of new crop turkeys is beginning, increases the likelihood of retail specials. From all indications this year's turkey crop will be the second largest of record.

Broilers should continue to be featured regularly for less than 30 cents a pound. From all indications at this time, broilers will not be as low in price this winter as they have been for the last 18 months.

The peach season is moving along very rapidly. Harvest is under way on Sullivan's Elberta and Hale Haven. Next on the market will be Shippers Late Red, Belle of Georgia and Elberta. All are suited for canning but the Hale Haven is recommended for freezing. You may still be able to find some if you check with your favorite grower or market operator soon.

Sweet corn and tomatoes still are the big news at area produce counters. Both are in good supply and low priced.

Other fruits becoming plentiful are apples, melons, plums, pears and grapes.

Backs Levy For Jail

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The Butler County Bar Association is backing a proposed 1-mill levy to replace the 114-year-old jail and expand court space. Judge Fred Cramer of common pleas court said Monday, "This is needed and we must make every effort to obtain it."

Fireplug Hit, Causes Salineville 'Drought'

SALINEVILLE — Police continued today to seek the driver of a truck which broke off a fire hydrant on Foundry Hill Rd. early Monday morning, causing a water shortage to a large number of East End homes for several hours.

Police Chief Roy Lewis said the breakage occurred between 2:30 and 5:15 a. m. when he received a telephone call from an unidentified person reporting the hydrant broken.

Crews replaced the hydrant yesterday while water was shut off to the eastern part of the town. Chief Lewis said tire marks and the nature of the damage indicated a truck was involved.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 28, the 240th day of 1962. There are 125 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1941, Russia announced that the Soviet Union's Dnieper River dam had been destroyed to prevent it falling into the hands of advancing German troops. The dam was one of the world's largest, built at a cost of $110 million.

On this date:

In 1565, French Protestant explorer and colonizer Jean Ribault reached Florida where he died later that same year.

In 1796, John DuFour established the first vineyard in America near Lexington, Ky.

In 1864, regular service was started with the first railway post office on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad between Chicago and Clinton, Iowa.

In 1939, Hitler's armies occupied Bratislava.

In 1945, Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright was flown to Chungking from Mukden near where he had been held prisoner by the Japanese during most of World War II.

Today's birthdays:

Baseball executive Chariey Grimm is 64. Actor Donald O'Connor is 37.

Thought for today:

Nature is thought immersed in matter—Amos Bronson Alcott.

Odd Facts

The average age of an aircraft commander on what the Strategic Air Command calls its "senior and select" crews is 37. Fifty-four per cent of SAC's officers have been in service 11 years or longer, Omaha headquarters reports, and 82.8 per cent have attended or are graduates of colleges or universities.

Twenty - two Nazis were convicted as a result of the famed Nuremberg war - criminal trials. The best known of these was Herman Goering, who committed suicide by poison after his conviction. Of the others, 10 were hanged, and the rest imprisoned.

Junior Editors Quiz on AUSTRALIA

QUESTION: Why is Australia called the Land of Living Fossils?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Experts tell us that there are certain "dead-end" places in the world, where very ancient animals moved and where they have remained much the same as when they first came. Australia is a famous "dead-end" spot. It is thought that this continent was connected by a bridge of land with Asia. As the first animals began to spread over the earth, many moved across this bridge into Australia. Among these were such strange primitive creatures as the duck-billed playtypus. Other early animals were the "marsupials" such as the kangaroo, who carry their young in pouches. After the first animals had moved in, the land bridge to the mainland disappeared and Australia became a separate continent. The first animals were mostly inoffensive creatures. Fortunately for them, the large, savage meat-eating animals which developed later could not get across the sea to Australia. So the ancient animals settled down and since they found conditions which suited them, have remained unchanged to the present.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Our American opossum is a marsupial, another of the 'living fossils." It climbs trees and is an expert at hiding, so it has managed to survive. But how did it get here? The scientists don't seem sure. Here's something for you to speculate on.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: In the nine years we've been married my wife has gained 35 pounds. She is only 5 feet 2 and she weighed 125 pounds when we married, so you can imagine what she looks like now.

She has gone to three doctors in two years to find out why she has gained so much weight. She'd like a doctor to tell her she has a glandular problem but no doctor has been able to find anything wrong with her glands, so naturally they are all crazy.

Every evening at the dinner table she points out that she eats less than our 7-year-old. Actually, this is true.

Frankly, I'm a little at a loss to figure out why she is so much overweight. Can you explain it? —ANXIOUS HUSBAND.

Dear Husband: If the doctor can find nothing organically wrong with her it means she is eating more food than her body needs.

I'm not a detective so I can't tell you how she manages to smuggle the food into her mouth but her weight is evidence that she is managing, somehow.

Many women nibble between meals. Others taste when they cook. The "tasting" never is considered "eating," of course —and the nibbling is forgotten.

When they clear away the dishes some women eat the leftovers instead of putting them in the refrigerator or throwing them out. The body counts these calories, even if the eater does not.

If your wife honestly wants to lose weight she'll have to put herself in the hands of a doctor and stop making excuses.

Tied To Apron Strings

Dear Ann: I'm 28 years old and feel the years slipping away. Worst of all, I find myself hating my mother, which makes me alternately guilty and furious.

Dad died when I was 16. I didn't go away to college because Mother couldn't be left alone. So I went to work.

I meet interesting people but I can't bring anyone home because mother bores them to death. The house is a mess because mother doesn't like to clean. She refuses to have help because a maid "gets in the way."

She opens my mail, listens to my phone conversations and faked a heart attack last year to keep me from taking a vacation.

I'm dying to move out and mother could manage financially without me but whenever I bring it up she says she's not well enough to live alone.

Please, please tell me what to do. — KNOTS IN MY STOMACH.

Dear Knots: You know what to do. You just want someone to tell you to go ahead and do it. So — I'll tell you. Move out now, while you can still make a life for yourself.

You owe your mother respect. She gave you life, but it's your life and you don't have to give it back to her.

Embarrassing Spot

Dear Ann: I'm bewildered, hurt and embarrassed. Please tell me if I deserve what happened yesterday.

A friend (not close, but we work together) lost her mother. The office took up a collection for flowers. I was absent that day.

The next morning I went out and bought a lovely sumpathy card. I sent it to my friend and wrote on the bottom, "I'm so sorry."

Yesterday the card was returned to me in the mail with this note: "I'm telling you as a friend. This is in bad taste. A hand-written note would have been proper."

Is she right? I am —MORTIFIED.

Dear Mort: A hand-written note is considered a cut above the store-bought kind, but a dignified card is not in bad taste.

If anyone is guilty of bad taste (and bad temper) it is your friend. Perhaps grief blurred her judgment.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

If you've used only half a lemon, cover the cut part with saran or waxed paper and refrigerate. Juice is less likely to dry out than if you leave the cut part of the fruit exposed.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: In the nine years we've been married my wife has gained 35 pounds. She is only 5 feet 2 and she weighed 125 pounds when we married, so you can imagine what she looks like now.

She has gone to three doctors in two years to find out why she has gained so much weight. She'd like a doctor to tell her she has a glandular problem but no doctor has been able to find anything wrong with her glands, so naturally they are all crazy.

Every evening at the dinner table she points out that she eats less than our 7-year-old. Actually, this is true.

Frankly, I'm a little at a loss to figure out why she is so much overweight. Can you explain it? —ANXIOUS HUSBAND.

Dear Husband: If the doctor can find nothing organically wrong with her it means she is eating more food than her body needs.

I'm not a detective so I can't tell you how she manages to smuggle the food into her mouth but her weight is evidence that she is managing, somehow.

Many women nibble between meals. Others taste when they cook. The "tasting" never is considered "eating," of course —and the nibbling is forgotten.

When they clear away the dishes some women eat the leftovers instead of putting them in the refrigerator or throwing them out. The body counts these calories, even if the eater does not.

If your wife honestly wants to lose weight she'll have to put herself in the hands of a doctor and stop making excuses.

Tied To Apron Strings

Dear Ann: I'm 28 years old and feel the years slipping away. Worst of all, I find myself hating my mother, which makes me alternately guilty and furious.

Dad died when I was 16. I didn't go away to college because Mother couldn't be left alone. So I went to work.

I meet interesting people but I can't bring anyone home because mother bores them to death. The house is a mess because mother doesn't like to clean. She refuses to have help because a maid "gets in the way."

She opens my mail, listens to my phone conversations and faked a heart attack last year to keep me from taking a vacation.

I'm dying to move out and mother could manage financially without me but whenever I bring it up she says she's not well enough to live alone.

Please, please tell me what to do. — KNOTS IN MY STOMACH.

Dear Knots: You know what to do. You just want someone to tell you to go ahead and do it. So — I'll tell you. Move out now, while you can still make a life for yourself.

You owe your mother respect. She gave you life, but it's your life and you don't have to give it back to her.

Embarrassing Spot

Dear Ann: I'm bewildered, hurt and embarrassed. Please tell me if I deserve what happened yesterday.

A friend (not close, but we work together) lost her mother. The office took up a collection for flowers. I was absent that day.

The next morning I went out and bought a lovely sumpathy card. I sent it to my friend and wrote on the bottom, "I'm so sorry."

Yesterday the card was returned to me in the mail with this note: "I'm telling you as a friend. This is in bad taste. A hand-written note would have been proper."

Is she right? I am —MORTIFIED.
